WITHROW HIGH SCHOOL

CINCINNATI, OHIO

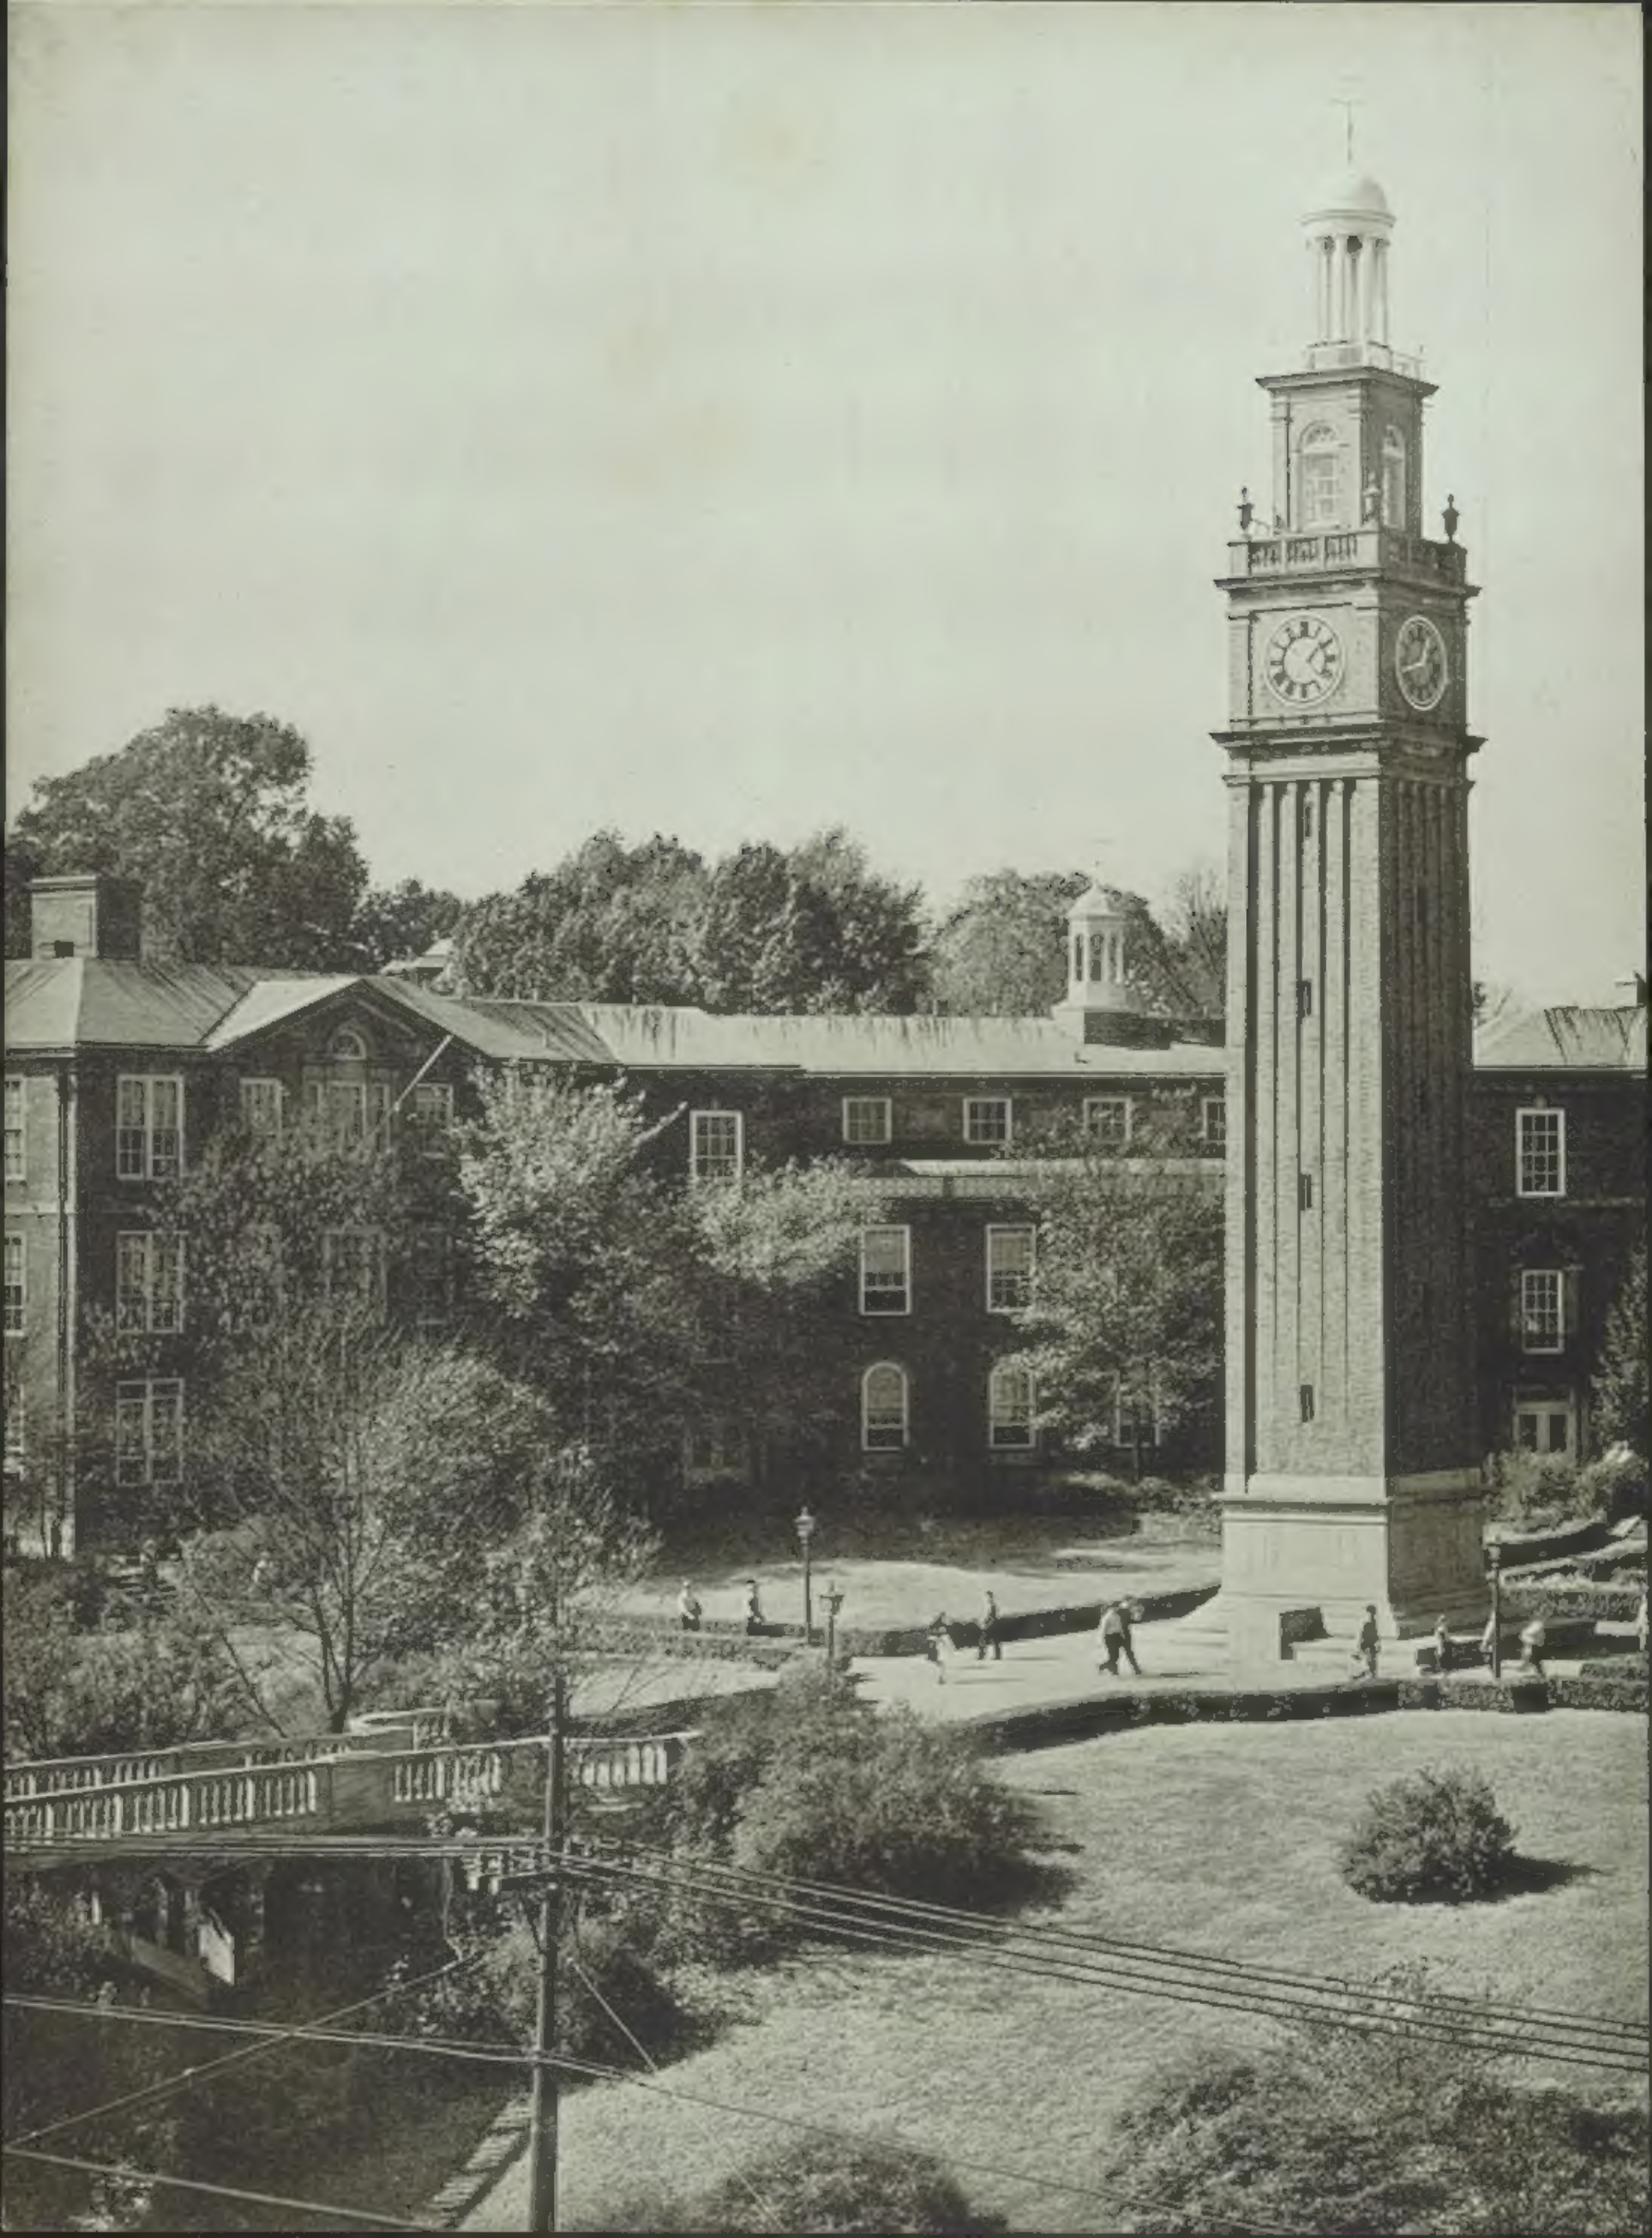

Today at Withrow

THIS IS IT . . . THE SENIORS
MEET FOR THE LAST TIME HONORS
ARE AWARDED. PROPHECIES ARE MADE.
UNDERCLASSMEN MOVE UP—THE SENIORS
MOVE OUT . . . OUT INTO AN EXCITED AND EXCITING WORLD. HISTORY WILL LABEL
THIS YEAR, 1944-45, ONE OF THE MOST CRITICAL YEARS OF THE AGES . . .
IN THE FOLLOWING PAGES YOU WILL RECALL THE EVENTS OF THE PAST YEAR AT WITHROW HIGH SCHOOL IN . . .

The Withrow Annual

Scholars and Students . . . guys and Books under our arms, we cross the beautifully arched bridge, hurry beneath the warning hands of the tower clock, proceed by garden and fountain, pass between the stately columns, and leave the crisp air of morning to enter into the warmth of friendship which is always Withrow.

With clashing hockey sticks, the girls inaugurate an excellent athletic program for the year.

Even in the rush of school life, there is time for many extra-pleasant moments by the tower.

gals . . . classes and quizzes . . .

In the morning, at noon, or after school, the bookroom hums with activity for all pupils.

Early morning locker chats become increasingly brief this year due to the new schedule.

With nimble legs, path paths campaign begin

With music which is loud and always gay, the little German Band detains many of the pupils on their morning trek across the bridge by picturesquely campaigning for the support of various school activities.

Spirit of Illinois: our good day's beginning

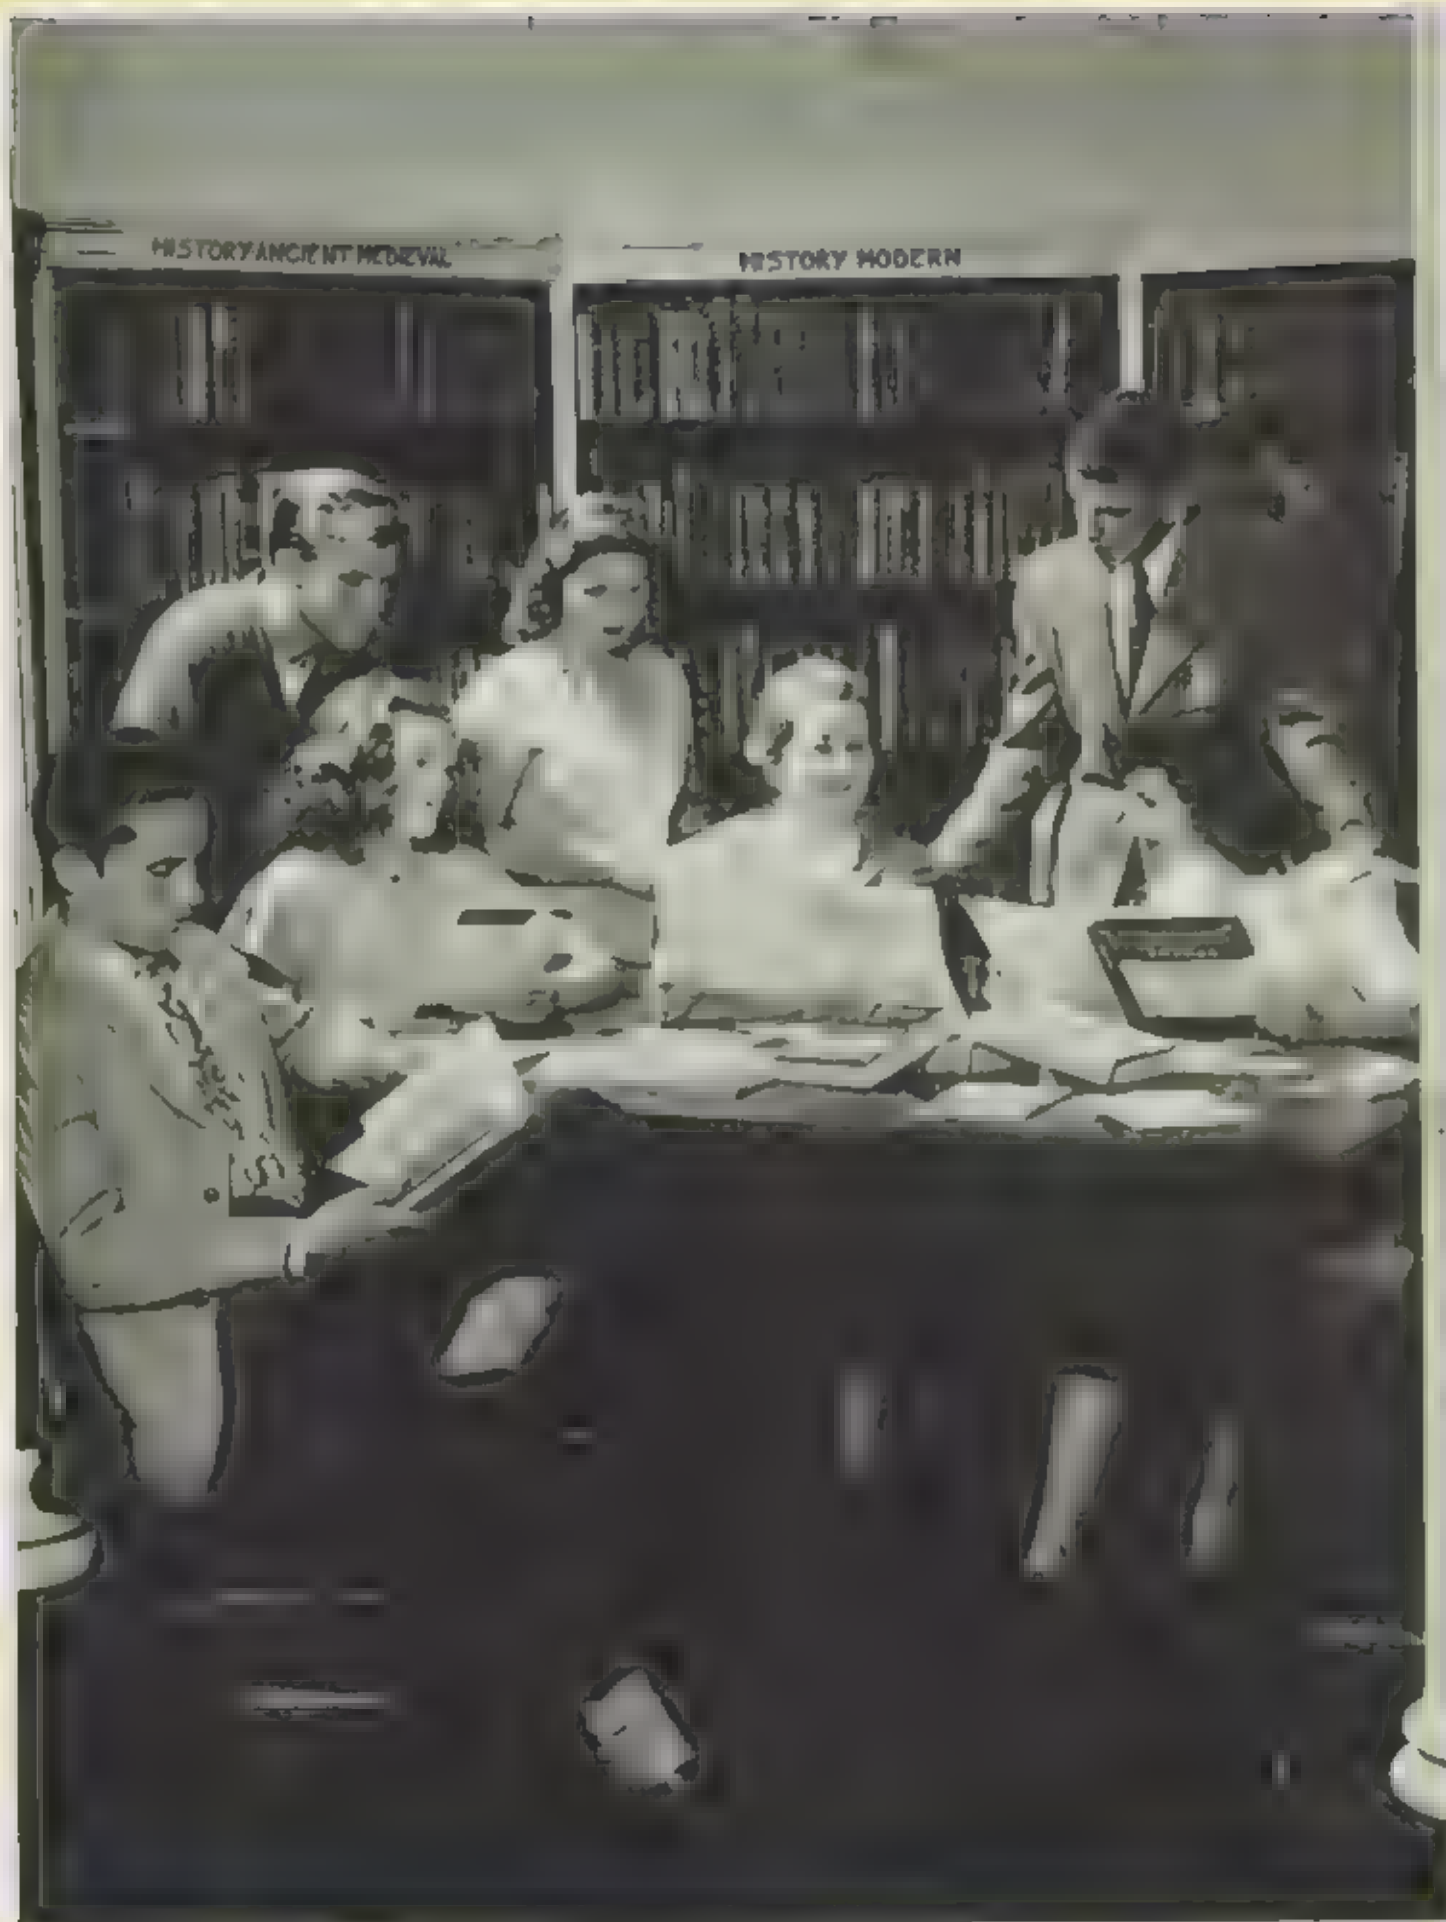

Though they were forced to discontinue during the year, Morning Watch with the short programs of hymns and reverent talks was a haven for those seeking quiet inspiration before beginning the busy school day.

196-1990- Sings blend into pleasant harmony

Lovely melody is the daily contribution of the numerous music classes to Withrow's activity-filled morning hours as under expert direction they bring happiness and joy to our halls "On Wings of Song"

Classroom and "John-Rain-112" side by side

The book-lined shelves of the library offer ample opportunity for the information-seeking pupil to delve into all types of literature, from the classics of Plato and Aristotle to the "Adventures of Sherlock Holmes."

Student Lunchroom

The fresh smell of home made apple pie, the bustling to finish eating in thirty minutes, the rows of sparkling trays moving in quiet order, and the constant murmurings are all part of the student lunchroom at mid-day.

Withrow! Step right this way for tickets!

Energetic Withrowites are forever gathering around the chief seller's desk to purchase tickets for the many outstanding Withrow presentations—from football and basketball to the concerts and the Minstrel show.

"Therefore, friends, the new platform is..."

This year, as could be expected, political platforms aroused the always enthusiastic Withrow pupil, and the ready exchange of ideas which resulted produced many fun-provoking rivalries at the close of the day.

Graduation . . . At the end of a "graduated day"

A torrent breaks loose at all doors when the clock strikes three. While the first ones rush to catch busses and street cars, others loiter behind to converse with friends and walk through the tree shaded campus of Withrow

The Faculty

Mr. Walter Peoples, principal, manifests the real spirit of friendship at Withro

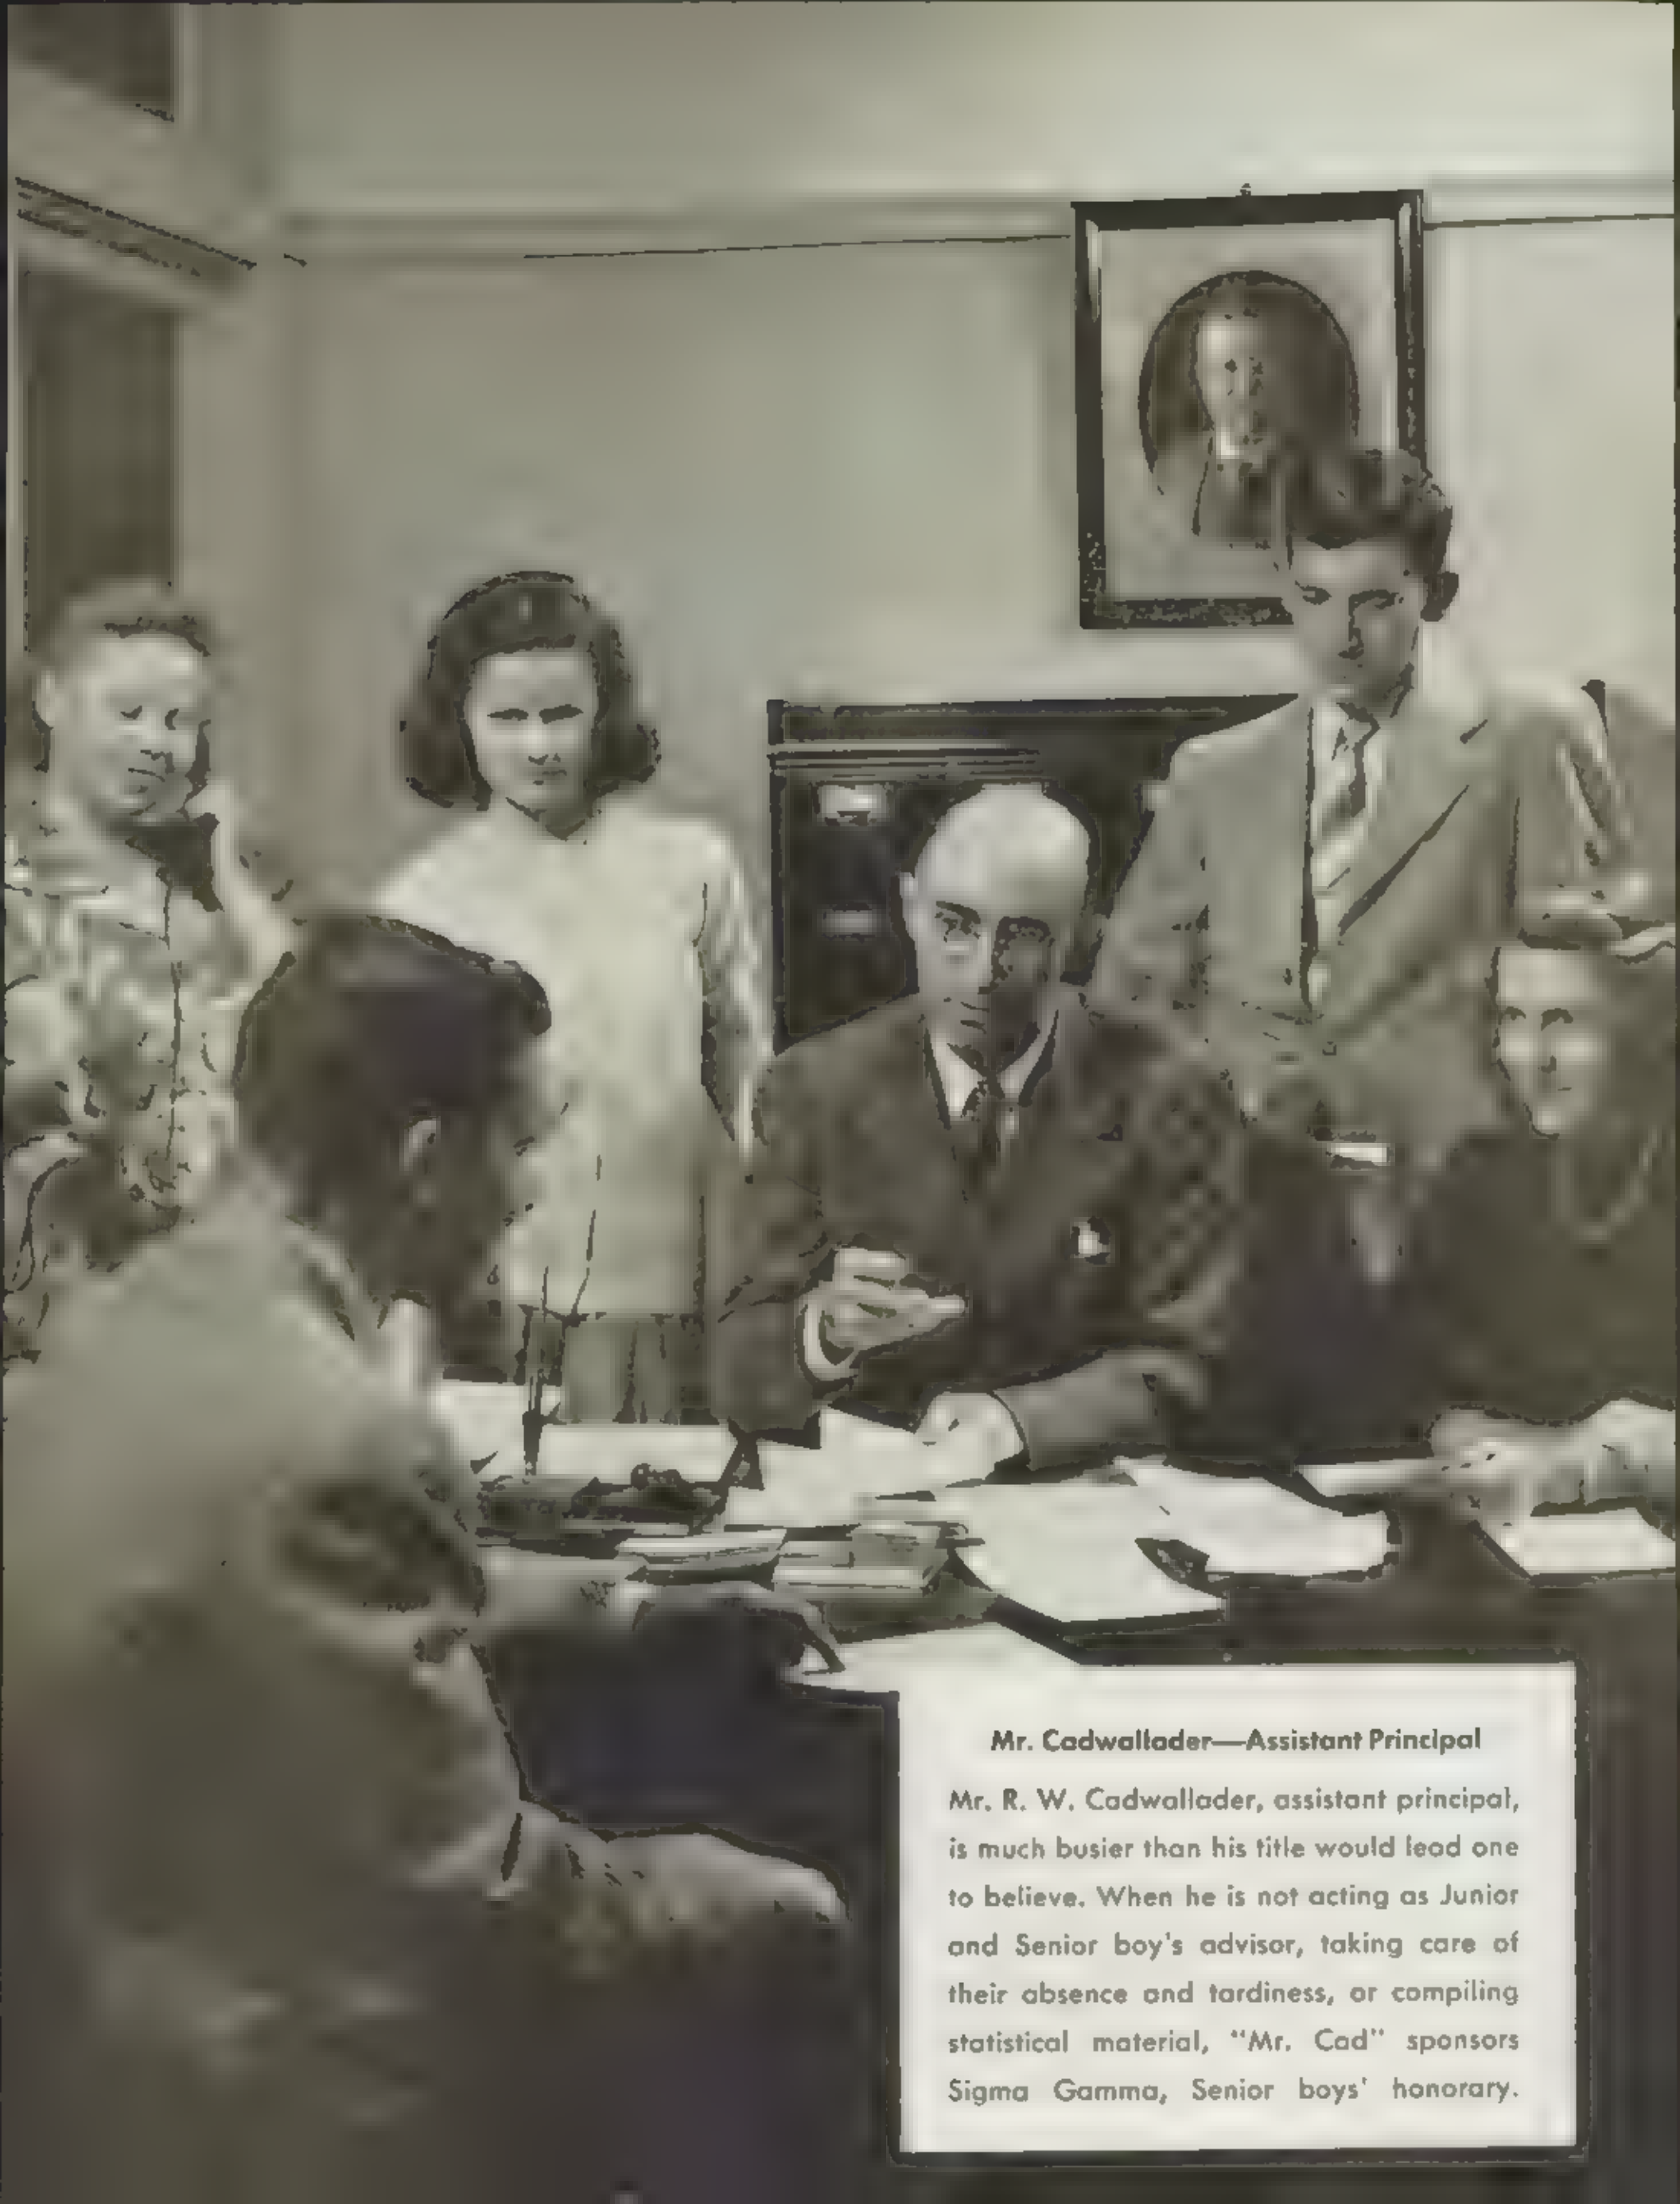

• he always has time for the students—here represented by Nancy Zeh, Sam McKaig, and Audrey Shearer.

Miss Agerter--Dean of Girls

The war had made an acute shortage of many things, but the friendly welcome upperclass girls receive from their dean each day is as abundant as ever. Every year Miss Agerter finds better ways to help her girls by giving advice on school programs, colleges, scholarships, and many jobs. Her guiding hand shows the way for the girls of Dux Femina, Withrow's Senior honorary society. The pupils find a helpful friend in the dean whatever their problems may be, for Miss Agerter tries to give individual attention to each one of them.

Mr. Cadwallader—Assistant Principal

Mr. R. W. Cadwallader, assistant principal, is much busier than his title would lead one to believe. When he is not acting as Junior and Senior boy's advisor, taking care of their absence and tardiness, or compiling statistical material, "Mr. Cad" sponsors Sigma Gamma, Senior boys' honorary.

Main office—Control Center of Withrow

To maintain the telephone system, to issue a daily bulletin, and to answer numerous letters is only part of each day's work in the main office where everything is managed efficiently by Miss Wanda Hoefle, secretary to Mr. Peoples, and Miss Martha Allen.

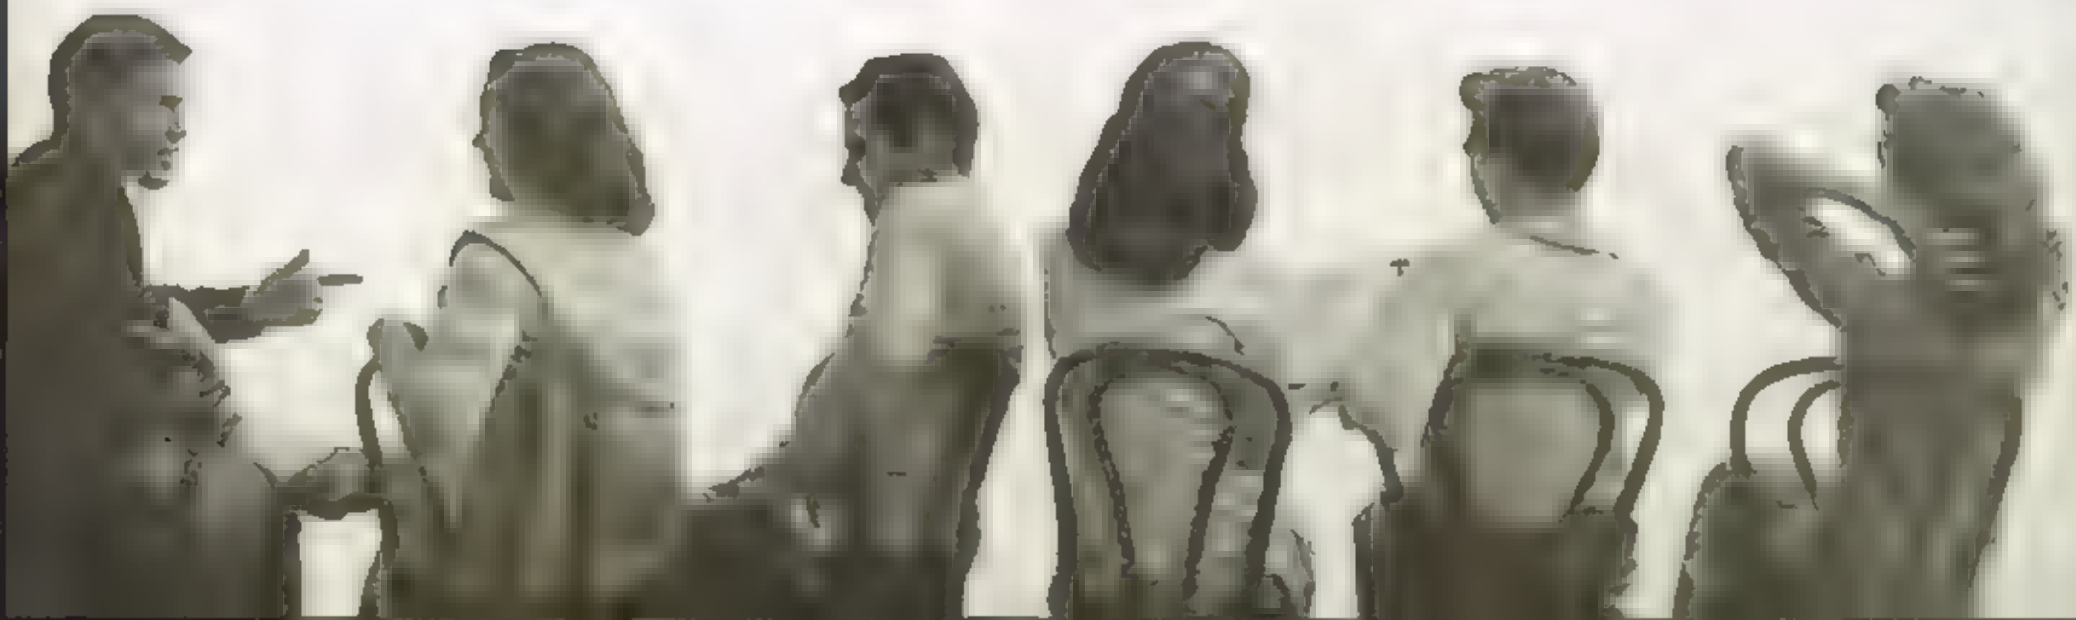

Miss Virginia Mann

The able and efficient assistant to Miss Agerter, who many remember as Miss Virginia Mann, includes in her daily routine checking absences from classes and study halls, arranging physical exams, and giving friendly advice which helps upper-grade girls with their problems. After attending to these duties she hurries off to sponsor Tip Toppers, or help the Victory Corps plan a new project.

Miss Hall, Dean of all freshmen, is kept exceedingly busy helping befuddled "freshies" to become adjusted to the swiftly moving, vibrant life of their first year at Withrow.

Miss Lulu Murphy is not only a ready listener and a helpful counselor for the Sophomore girls, but also the energetic supervisor of all the costumes for the Minstrel show.

Mr. Vigard, the person behind the discipline

Able counselor of the Sophomore boys, Mr. Vigard, goes calmly about his business of writing absence excuses, occasional detention slips, and rescuing frustrated underclassmen from the pitfalls of various bewildering predicaments. In addition to these duties he has found time to take over the headaches that come with attempting to rein in the fractious stage crew and thoroughly enjoys teaching his physiology class.

MISS ANSHUTZ

A great love of the theater and especially of Shakespearian tragedies characterize her pleasure in English literature and drama.

MISS ATKINS

"I don't want to formulate your opinions, I just want to make you think, in English class and out. By the way, what is your philosophy of life?"

MISS BAEHR

"Parlez-vous francais" queries the "One and Only" of the French Department, and is astounded by the reply, "Si, Si, Senorita, perfectamente."

MISS BAHR

Although teaching Sociology and Consumer Education, she still has time to be the driving force behind the Advertising Staff of "Yar Noosa."

MR. BAKER

All right let's settle down now" is the firm rebuke often heard from 115, the department of beaters, test tubes, and Bunsen Burners.

MRS. BAKER

She enjoys her new position as Spanish teacher of the Senior High faculty as well as listening to important baseball games and playing bridge.

MRS. BARNETTE

Teaching the fundamentals of mathematics to Junior High School pupils, another of Withrow's newcomers finds her work thoroughly enjoyable.

MISS BERGMAN

Withrow's only cadet teacher under the supervision of Miss Connor, has a busy day teaching "Plane G." and attending the university.

MISS BISCEGLIA

"Oh, but Shorthand is always so much easier the second time you take it!" is the exclamation often used by the teacher of commercial subjects.

MISS BLASBERG

Though busy with gym work, and since the start of the war, with packing boxes for China she still reserves time for the fun of dancing.

MISS BOWMAN

Math teacher, who is a volunteer Red Cross driver and blood donor, rates bridge, bowling, and knitting on her list of spare time activities.

MISS BRAUNECKER

For eight years advisor of the Annual Literary Staff she now devotes her time to English and trying to make herself heard above the band.

MR. BRUBAKER

If this Chemistry were hard, I wouldn't be teaching it!" exclaims "Mr. Bru" whose post war dream is a trip to Glacier National Park.

MISS CAVEMAN

She is sponsor of Alpha Y, Girl Reserves, and teaches American History so that the complete year's work seems to be fascinating.

MISS CAVENDISH

She repeats time and time again her pet philosophy, "You're going to reap what you sow" in her Civics and World History classes.

MISS CHESLEY

After a bout with staff and printers she realizes that she must still prepare for tomorrow's English, Speech, and Journalism classes.

MISS COE

"Your answers were right, but Oh! the appearance of your homework paper. You'll never get through Math or Social Studies classes that way."

MISS CONNER

Teacher of Math for twenty-six years, she was a victim of mistaken identity when our pupils inquired, "Are you Miss Bergman's substitute?"

MISS COOK

"Oh, that's interesting" is the oft-repeated phrase used by this nature lover, who studies birds and Geology when she is not teaching art.

MISS CORCORAN

A Business training teacher, tells her pupils to keep their heads up and not to admire their mistakes. She prefers watching football games to movies.

MR. DAVIDSON

Although his three year old son takes up much of his time, the Dean of Junior High boys also enjoys teaching Science and hunting.

MISS DENNER

When she is not busy teaching General Science this former Air War spends many hours doing volunteer hospital work and teaching first aid.

MISS DICKINSON

The symbol of the political donkey and teaching various kinds of history to pupils, who are eager to learn, delight this teacher

MISS DORNETTE

Opera and gardening offer variety from the daily curriculum of teaching General Science to the "offies" and "E flats" of Junior High

MISS EPPINGER

You must be able to speak the Spanish language as well as to write it," stresses this maestro whose interests include traveling and cooking

MISS FELS

Keeping war stamps straight and teaching Junior High Mathematics cause her to look forward with great anticipation to the summer on her farm

MISS FEYEREISEN

Keep your eyes on the copy—feet on the floor—Angers well curved" and this mild mannered typing teacher will not be disappointed in you

MRS. FLINT

Helping to straighten the lines of the Minstrel pony chorus gives this Junior High gym teacher her biggest thrill of the entire school year

MRS. FOMENKO

Aim for the bullseye," directs the sponsor of girls archery and basketball who likes to eat, sleep and write to her husband in the service

MISS FREEMAN

Her English pupils are given more complete understanding of English prose and poetry by her very interesting illustrations in pantomime

MISS GOOLEY

Next! How many please?" is a common expression of this Junior Business and Salesmanship teacher who is also the vendor of all tickets.

MISS GREEN

"Mom," advisor to the Art and Ad staffs, would rather stay two hours longer after school than arrive five minutes early in the morning

MR. GREYER

Continually threatening to give up A Cappella Choir, "Lead the Lion" saves his roaring encouragement for spirited pep assemblies and his effervescent cheerleaders

MISS GROVE

Her enthusiasm extends from composing original Latin parades for Gens Togata to attempting to help Sherlock Holmes find out who done it

MRS. HARTSELL

Ever since gasoline rationing has curtailed her drive this teacher of social studies has devoted many of her leisure hours to gardening.

MR. HENSEL

Affectionately dubbed "Pop" by his young athletes, he is the coach of Junior High Athletics as well as director of Minstrel pony chorus.

MISS HERFURTH

Although teaching English is her profession she also takes great interest in flowers, victory gardening, and international affairs.

MISS HILDEBRANDT

After a day spent enacting Shakespeare she finds relaxation in the cultivation of a flower garden, painting with water colors, or collecting fossils

MISS HINES

Even though she yearly has to deny any relationship to the famous "57" she still loves to teach Civics to extremely bewildered Freshmen.

MR. HOFFMEISTER

This new teacher from Hughes gives special attention to gardening and repairing antique furniture when not teaching his woodworking classes

MR. HOLDER

I like to fish, remarks the architectural and mechanical drawing teacher and I'm still fishing for a class whose drawings I can read

MISS HOLLAND

So good natured is she that her temper is never ruffled by be-tuddled freshmen and knowing juniors who never find the unknown quantity

MR. HOWE

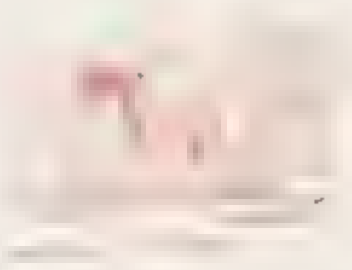

Morning Watch prospered under his guidance before class. During school hours he performs astounding experiments in the Physics lab

MR. HUNT

Rescuing salt shakers from mischievous pupils in the school lunch room presents a problem to this amiable American History teacher.

Could Be.

A bright Navigation pupil who had been befuddled by the problem of converting nautical miles to statute miles declared, "Now I know just how to do it. I think of the way I'd do it and then work it out just the opposite."

Uninhibited means a place where nobody lives.

Even teachers make mistakes. One of Withrow's finest startled her class the other day by saying, "I like young people, because they are so energetic and repulsive."

A man is an animal that has a spinal column so as to keep him from being legs clear up to his neck.

Vocabulary is always a problem to Freshmen. One of the brilliant boys quite amazed Miss Meredith by confessing that he didn't believe himself smart enough to be in her "epidemic" English class.

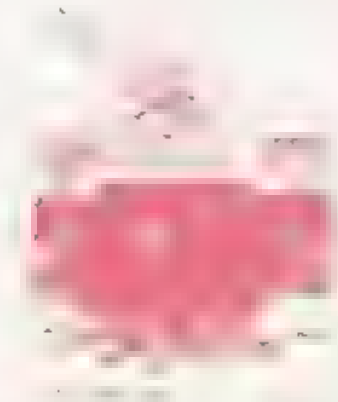

Miss Hall was doubtful whether or not her Freshman helper knew Mr. Mathias, but was quickly reassured, "Oh yes, he is the one with the most hair of the two bald-headed men in the lunchroom."

I could have sworn Mom set the alarm, but when I woke up it was 9:00 and so...

When asked to give the comparative degrees of "ill," a boy promptly answered, "ill, worse, dead."

A nominee for president of one of Withrow's prominent clubs stated, "I'm sorry I can't accept, but I must recline the offer."

Question: "In the lesson today concerning Hamlet, what is the meaning of 'tropically'?"

Answer: " 'Tropically means that it is going to be hot for the king."

MRS. HUTCHINSON

This year she started collecting milkweed pods for the Army Farmer-friends permit her to pursue easily her favorite botanical interests.

MISS HUTCHISON

Seeing to it that the Dance Club formations are kept rhythm perfect, leaves her little free time for symphonies, plays, and reading books.

MISS IRWIN

Teaching Plane Geometry and Algebra do not interfere with her attendance at football games and writing letters to her brother overseas.

MISS KELLER

When asked why she teaches "that history stuff," she buoyantly replies that her pupils and the subject are a great source of enjoyment to her.

MR. KING

"We've a good chance to win but so have they," is the inevitable statement of the Withrow eleven's proud papa before each new game.

MISS KITZMAN

"All aboard" is the favorite expression of this language teacher who often spends her spare time collecting antiques and making furniture.

MISS KRAPP

She helps the Junior High pupils in her Social Studies classes to be good citizens and smilingly admits fondness for rose gardens and music.

MR. KRATZ

With a "hatful of tricks" for making the orchestra "bigger and better" the former director of the Hughes Band begins his stay at Withrow.

MRS. LALLY

Hey yaul! What are you doing? startles every potential athlete in the girls gym and keeps G. A. A. members constantly on their toes.

MR. LEACH

This machine shop teacher is hoping to complete his twenty-fifth year at Withrow in 1944 without absence or tardiness.

MRS. MAISH

A newcomer who likes Withrow, she teaches both English and Latin and finds knitting and bridge very enjoyable after school hours.

MR. MATHIAS

In addition to supervising the lunchroom with its increasing problems this busy mathematics teacher still maintains his oval disposition.

MISS MEREDITH

You be Hamlet, I'll be Ophelia is an example of the interesting approach to the study of one of the classics which she makes enjoyable.

MISS MOORMAN

A Theatre Guild member and advisor of Scribblers, she delights in poetry, symphonies and is an enthusiastic participant in tennis and golf.

MISS MUDGE

Although her first love is Spanish, French and symphonies also rate high with the leader of the crusade to replace steps with escalators.

MRS. NICKOLOFF

After a strenuous year her New York cottage is a welcome refuge for pupils of German who persist in calling her Mrs. "Nickel-off."

MR. NIMMO

Representing the land of kilts and clans he plays bagpipes in a true Scottish style when not engaged in developing potential athletes.

MRS. NOONAN

A teacher of Senior High home economics she spends her afternoons knitting and working in her vegetable garden and her evenings listening to music.

MR. OBERSCHMIDT

After a day of teaching electricity he enjoys walking, ice skating, and badminton along with designing and constructing electrical models.

MISS PARKS

A teacher of Economic Geography and Business Administration she enjoys music, and plans after the war to continue with her hobby, travel.

MISS L. PERIN

"Wan't you please get your home-work in an time!" With this re-buke students from "green Fresh-men" to "superior Seniors" have their ego deflated.

MISS POOLEY

"See what you can find in the History section and I'll help you in a few minutes," is the suggestion given by Withrow's head librarian.

MR. PROBST

A new physics and aeronautics teacher, lately of Madisonville School, he divides his leisure between a boy's Sunday School and gardening.

MISS RATTERMAN

Pupils who use straight chairs as rockers are a source of annoyance for this English teacher who gently admonishes. No tipping, please."

MR. RAY

Though this industrious Junior High Woodwork teacher longs to spend his time hunting and fishing, after school his occupation is working on his victory garden.

MISS REHRING

After completing her duties as a librarian, she enthusiastically turns attention to Latin America and all kinds of outdoor sports.

MR. REUTER

"Hobbies?" exclaims this firm advocate of the obstacle course. "Why, I have two of the best, my granddaughter and a good game of pinocle."

MISS REYNOLDS

New to Withrow this year, she teaches Junior High English and is greatly interested in the study of Spanish and the Latin American countries.

MR. RHOLLANS

Besides teaching commercial subjects he enjoys fulfilling his duties as Annual Business Advisor and settling down to Gardner's mysteries.

MISS ROCKEL

Designing and making her clothes, besides knitting, brings this Household Arts teacher as much pleasure during school as her trips to Mexico.

MISS ROSENBERGER

Playing bridge, attending the theater and directing Thelma are recreation for this teacher of English and American History and Government.

MISS ROWELL

Besides teaching math this faculty member adds collecting tax stamps, cooking and watercolors to her already varied interests.

MISS SANDERS

This teacher of mathematics and Navigation confides that her various homerooms are the cause of her indigestion and nightmares.

MRS. SATTEN

A new teacher in Withrow Junior High, she delights in her classes and is already a great admirer of the scenic beauty of our Alma Mater.

MR. SCHIRMER

This teacher of Arts and Crafts divides his spare time between collecting stamps, caring for his garden and orchard, and spearing frogs.

MISS SEARS

The favorite diversions of this Junior High English teacher after school are books and outdoor life. Her island in Canada and raising chrysanthemums.

MISS SEAY

After teaching typing and shorthand this teacher finds relaxation in knitting and reading although traveling in peacetime is her hobby.

MR. SEAY

"Now over in my office" is the beginning of many illustrations used by the school treasurer to explain points in his bookkeeping classes.

MISS SHAFFER

After a busy day of World History and Algebra classes this ardent follower of international affairs becomes an enthusiastic sports fan.

MR. SHELLY

Coaching the freshman football team and the varsity basketball team leave little time for the varied outdoor activities which Shelly loves.

MISS SIBCY

This English teacher delights her classes with short stories that make The Yeoman and Pince and The Pauper a great deal more interesting.

MR. SIMMERMAN

A former Withrow graduate now teaching special subjects in the Junior High, he finds diversion in the men's bowling team, golf, and baseball.

MR. SMITH

Will Nancy and George V follow their father's footsteps and enjoy the band, Minstrels, and harmony class schedule as much as Smith?

MISS SMITH

"Self control is a great virtue" is the proverbial advice of the Junior High household arts teacher who enjoys collecting novelty prints.

MISS SPELLMIRE

A love of flowers she finds recreation in the study of astronomy when she is not teaching biology and General Science.

MR. SROFE

Although "Multiple-Choice" J. G. is kept busy with American History, Sociology, and sponsoring Philo, he still finds time to pursue best sellers.

MR. STEARNS

Looking for this busy Industrial Arts teacher? After school he is surely either sleeping, bowling, or at any time saying, "All right now."

MR. STEPHANY

The "key-man" at Withrow compares a care-less key loser to some of the lowest forms of animal life found in his treasured science books.

MISS STRATE

You're so beautifully indefinite reiterates this competent mentor who teaches Geology and Astronomy, World Geography, Sociology and Economics.

MISS STOSE

Smilingly this Junior High art teacher tells you she enjoys golfing and reading when possible. Her pet peeve? sloppy casual—but definitely!

MISS TAYLOR

"Neither good nor evil but middle gray" is the provocative phrase which teases the mentalities of the English pupils in Uteritas and 211.

MISS TILFORD

At right now, let's go is the characteristic phrase which starts her classes in Civics, American History, and Problems of Democracy.

MISS VANCE

Detective stories, the theaters and her one hundred and forty year old home take up the leisure time of this Home Economics Teacher.

MISS J. WALKER

To me the most impressive thing about Withrow is the way in which my handicapped pupils have enjoyed joining in many school activities.

MISS M. WALKER

Besides teaching Social Studies in Junior High she smilingly sells fresh country eggs to her fellow teachers and spends her summers in Canada.

MISS WILLIAMS

This English teacher remembered for her pleasant manner and sink or swim tests spends many hours enjoying literature and the theater.

MR. WILSON

Many an unexpressed giggle can be heard from behind the closed door of room 9 where he unfortunately tells mathematical wizards to "brace up."

MR. WIRTH

After hours one may find this gym instructor practicing what he preaches in keeping his body fit by enjoying all sorts of outdoor sports.

MISS WOOD

Having spent the day cooking over the hot stoves in the Household Arts rooms, she cheerfully goes home to experiment with new recipes.

MR. ZIEGLER

After a day of commercial law and practical math he busies himself with the exacting duties of the School Bank and sponsoring Law Club.

Coulda

Miss Cavendish asked a boy, "What does Withrow give you in the way of education that you can take away from school?" Very seriously the boy replied, "It gives me a locker key."

The Physics instructor had made an assignment in the book, "From Galileo to Cosmic Rays," but the self important Junior thought she could remember the title and did not bother to write it down. Confidently striding into the library, she asked the librarian, "Do you have the book, 'From Galileo to Cosmetic Rays'?"

Miss Tilford: "Very bad health habits may lead to something similar to consumption."

Pupil: "What do you mean by that, Miss Tilford, overeating?"

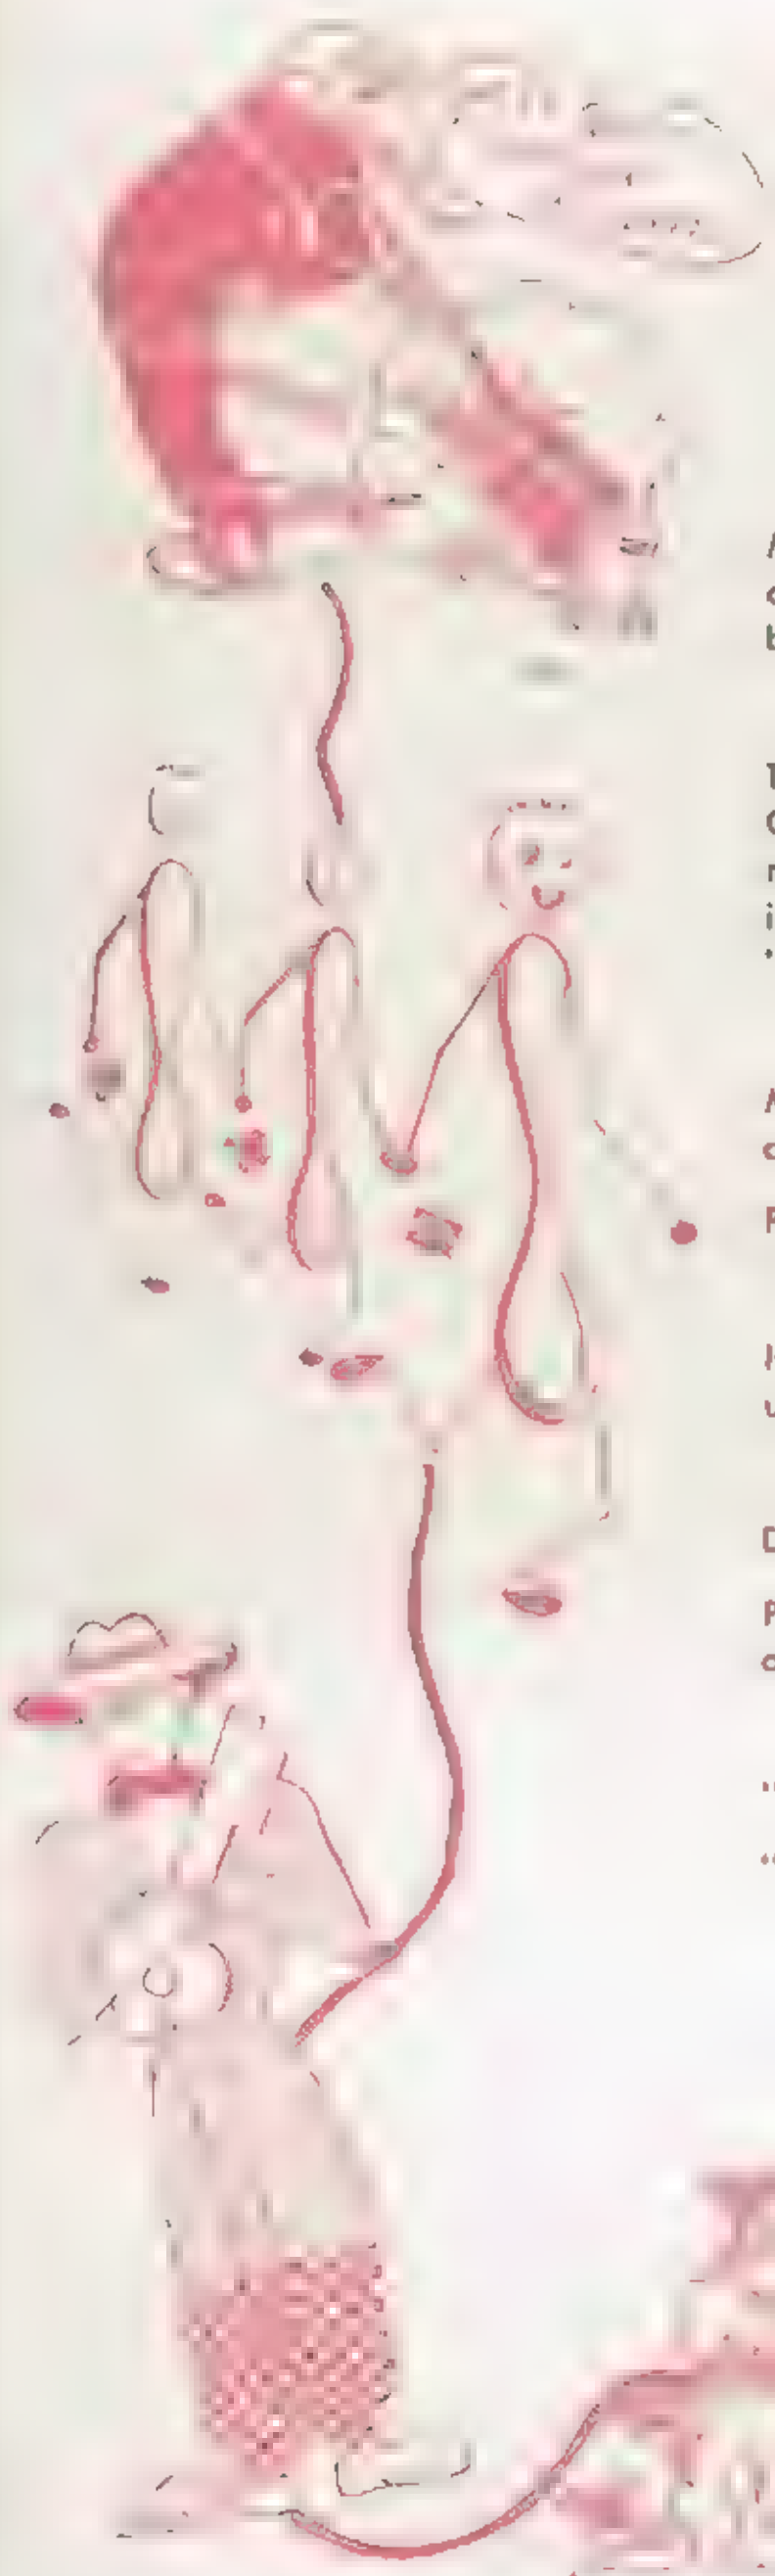

It was Miss Chesley who asked for the plural of teaspoon. She was unprepared for the quick answer "The plural of teaspoon is tablespoon."

Dean: "Why are you late today, Jim?"

Pupil: "Well, we had exercises in gym yesterday, and this morning I just don't move so fast."

"Dick, why weren't you in study hall yesterday?"

"I was there, but you just didn't see me."

Have you!

A puzzled Freshman, after a prolonged search, asked Miss Pooley, "Do you have the book that begins with knights and ends with flowers?" Although perplexed the librarian eventually produced, to the satisfaction of the pupil, "When Knighthood Was in Flower."

Teacher: "George, why is it that you are always talking in class?"

Pupil: "I don't know, unless it's because I just naturally breathe through my mouth."

On being asked what cannonized meant, one of Miss Shaffer's World History pupils replied, "It means to be tied to the mouth of a cannon and then they shoot the cannon off."

My dog had puppies, and I was too excited to do my lesson.

A philanthropist is a stamp collector or dealer in stamps. He must be forgiving and his feelings must not be hurt because someone gives him old stamps.

Miss Moorman finds frequent punctuation mistakes while reading the English papers handed to her. When she asked one of the pupils if he knew what mistakes he had made on the test, the answer came very quickly.

"Oh," he exclaimed, "I forgot the decimal points."

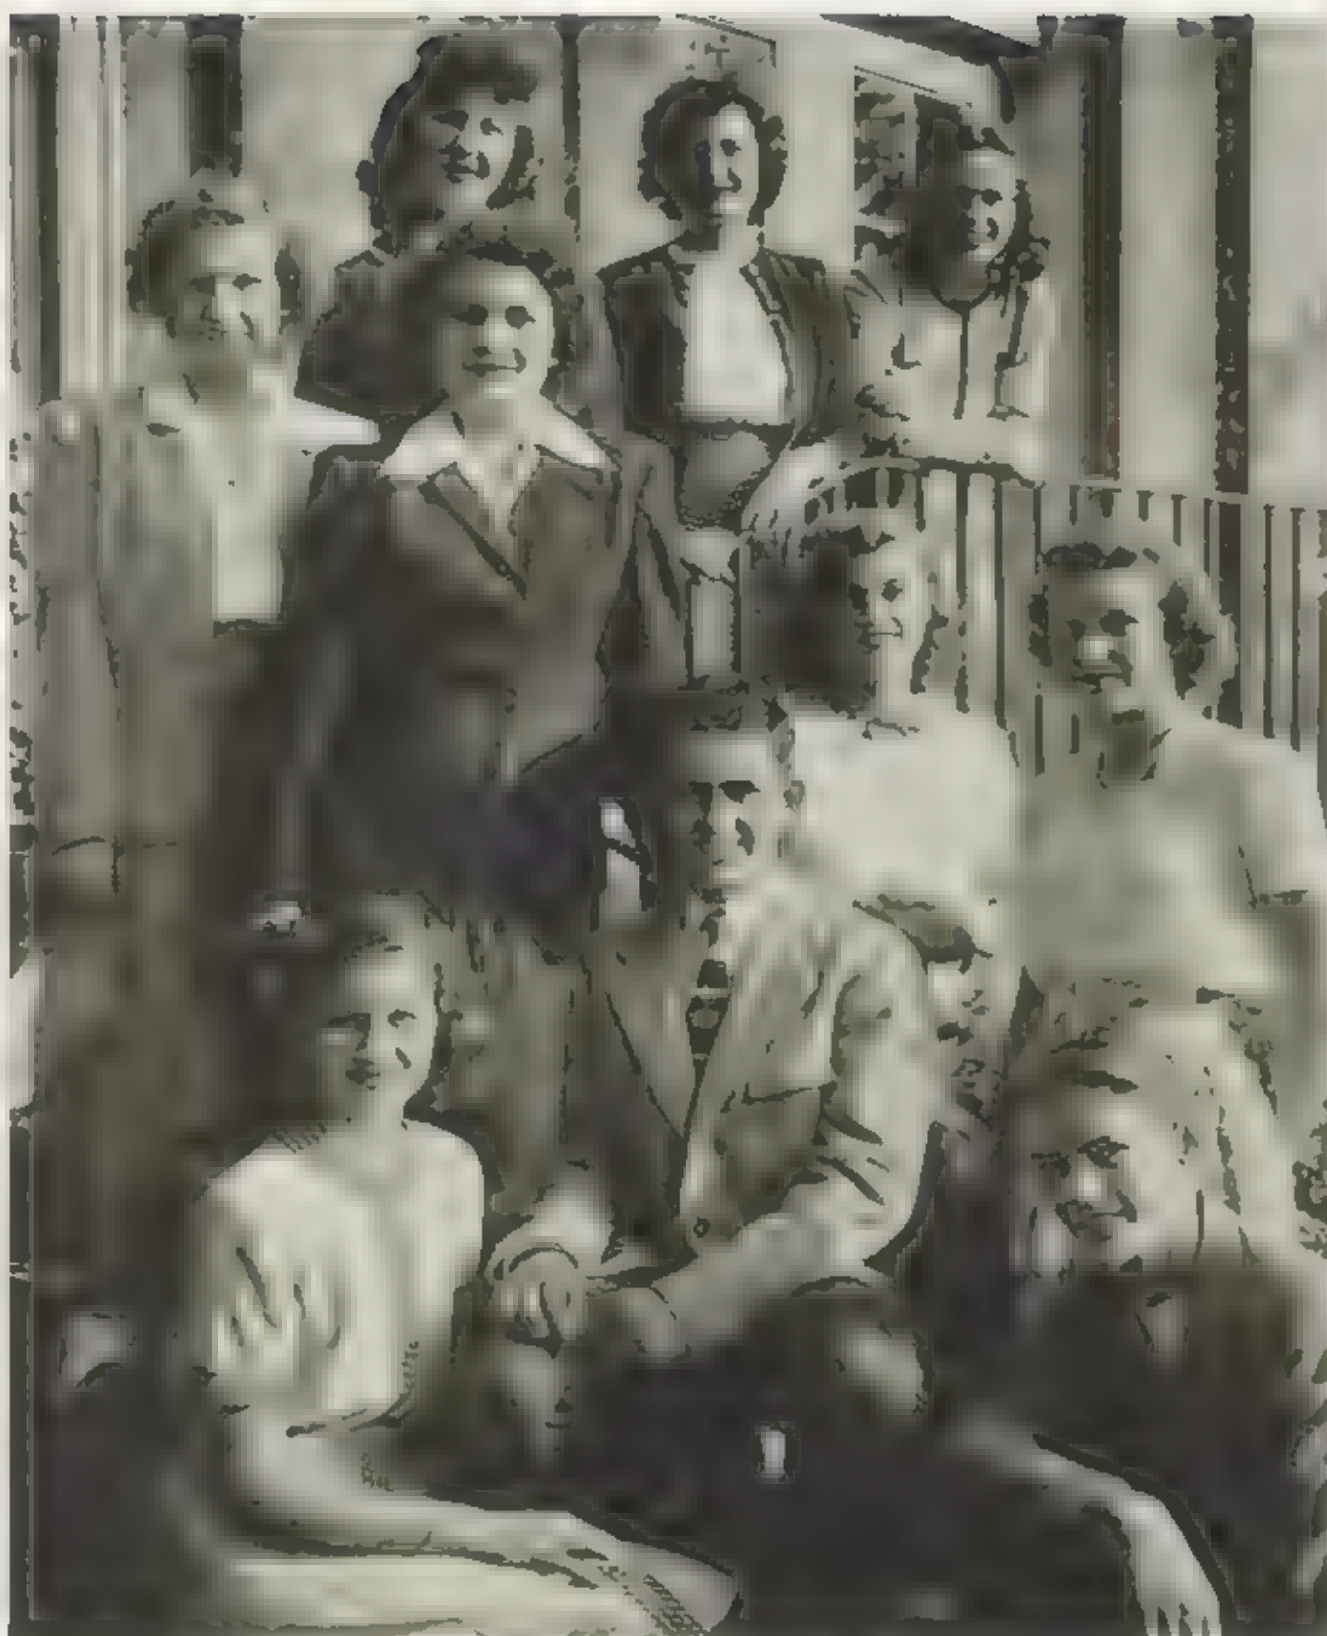

The Senior

Senior year—The thrill of being a superior senior, riding in the jeep bough by Withrow's own contributions, dancing on air at the prom, overcoming shortages caused by war, graduating.

Seated—M. Heim, S. McKaig, H. Lawton, J. Stoecklin
 Standing—M. Steussel, J. Schmidt, M. Roop, M. B. Williams, P. Haase, E. Simpson

Council Leads Seniors to Success

Filing to the polls last spring, the Junior class of '44 elected its officers for the coming year. When the returns were in, it was found that they had elected a petticoat council, since the girls outnumbered the boys four to one!

Foremost among their achievements during the year were the drives they sponsored and organized for the purchase of a jeep and a trainer plane. All in all, the Senior Class Council of '45 was a complete and satisfying success.

IT'S AN OLD CUSTOM

Holding hands in the halls? Well, yes — but there's more to this than meets the eye.

It's also an old custom at Withrow to wear fine class jewelry from Herff-Jones. That's why our class rings always have that extra something.

Underclassmen

Quizzical Freshmen soon learn the varied techniques of smooth apple-polish ing and fast fancy footwork from talented upper-classmen who are past masters of the arts.

Delving into the mysteries of the unknown in bolts and flashes are the electricity classes at Withrow High.

I equals E over R , or does R equal I over E . Such questions are easily answered by electricity pupils initiated into the mysterious science by Mr. Carl Oberschmidt, teacher.

General science gives Freshmen a basic foundation and a background for future courses. Chemistry, and the fun of lab, is one of the possible subjects for upperclassmen.

Miss Lillian Denner patiently initiates inquisitive freshmen into the field of General Science. She helps them to acquire the basic knowledge of the laws of nature which are so necessary for a successful continuance along this line. Her pupils are familiarized with the essentials of all the sciences, thus aiding them to decide which to follow later.

As the prospective scientists advance in their education, the active interest of those who choose chemistry is nurtured by the vigilant attention of Mr. Brubaker. Under the guidance of their competent instructor, young chemists of the future delve into experiments.

Events of the past, coupled with discussions of current problems yield a rich background for today's world.

Here in a history classroom, eager pupils, soon to be the citizens, voters, and tax payers of the country are instructed in the principles of democracy from Aristotle's time to that of the twentieth century. The alliances, treaties, grievances, and conquests are studied and scrutinized so that boys and girls may have a greater understanding of tomorrow's world. All this is necessary if nations are to live peacefully, prosperously.

With the liberation of France last year, the French classes hold a greater admiration for these fighters of liberty.

"Parlez vous francais?" With Miss Bertha Boehr's fine instruction French students learn to "parler francais" very well. At the beginning a diligent study of "vocabulaire" and "grammaire" is required, but as they advance in their study, contact with French as it really is, with its expressive idioms, brings new interest. The pupils practice correct French enunciation in special oral conversation which brings real understanding and lasting pleasure to those who appreciate extensive study of Romance languages.

Symbolic of Withrow is its excellent music department each year claiming more of school's attention.

Wherever there is activity on the campus, there will be the band or orchestra ready to give their contribution. The exuberant cheers at the football game are spirited by the band. The serenade in the halls at Christmas time are accompanied by talented musicians. The Pop and Spring Concerts are highly attended, and the graduation would never be complete without them. The music department accepts this recognition by turning out finer performances each year.

Mathematics ranks high among the most popular studies chosen, today, by far-sighted Withrowites.

Today at Withrow mathematics and all its related subjects has a prominent place in school work. Faced with a new age of precision, that can be obtained only by good mathematical calculations, wide-awake pupils of Withrow consume all the geometry, trigonometry, and algebra possible. Precise work is in order and careful computation is under the guidance of many excellent teachers of mathematics.

Thorough preparation for better and more active citizenship is stressed in the Problems of Democracy class.

Planning a world of tomorrow, these future voters face the questions that arise today and try to find good solutions in the Problems of Democracy class. Comparisons of all types of governments help them to understand more clearly what the democratic way of life means to them and their training for better and more active citizenship.

Practical things, which the pupils will use after school has long been forgotten, are taught in Household Arts classes.

The steady buzzing of sewing machines and the fragrance of hot foods tell an observer that the Withrow pupils are practicing their knowledge of the home arts. Style shows afford the school the opportunity of seeing the latest clothes made and modeled by the girl classes. Lucky friends of the boy chefs sample many dishes in their experimental stages. Both skills are essential today and will prove their worth in later years.

Vitality, fitness, and fun are three good reasons for the all-out attendance in girl sports at Tigertown.

The girls' gym classes practice calisthenics as one of their many tests of athletic prowess daily. With many boys going to war the girls have taken to marching and drill work to supplement the regular routine emphasizing discipline. The true spirit of sportmanship, taught in gym, is put into practice by the girls in baseball, hockey, basketball, and volleyball after three.

Daily workouts are essential to the boys whether they go into the Armed Forces or any type war work.

Keeping the gym teachers informed seems to be the special duty of a Withrow boy in the Army.

Reports on their workouts are sent back and given to the boys here to try. Whether it's football, basketball, or track, the boys are conditioned for the bigger things to come. They can be seen daily on one of the many fields practicing what the class workouts taught them.

With the tools of the trade in hand, pupils in Arts and Crafts create beautiful articles of lasting value.

Aided by the instruction and guidance of Mr Herbert Schirmer, spare periods can be profitably utilized with the making of rings, bracelets, pins and other essentials of costume jewelry. Although work with silver and copper are most popular with the fascinated pupils, lovely ceramic creations are completed and glazed in the large kiln. Surely no enthusiast can ever forget the thrilling excitement of arts and crafts during a day at Withrow up in room 224.

Busily pounding the keys, typing classes prepare for a possible future in tomorrow's commercial world.

With typing books before them and the constantly repeated words "Don't look at the keys" fresh in their minds, typing pupils strive to see who can write more words per minute. Their instruction includes not only lessons in rapid typing and speed tests, but also practice in business correspondence. Pupils are well prepared through actual business office methods, including the use of the dictaphone, for a future job as a competent typist or skilled secretary.

Old Faithful

Again today as every day, Sally is met by Sassy, who recognizes the sounds and smells of another "Old Faithful", the special school bus. He knows it is certain to be at his corner on time.

And it's true, too! Because every day sure as you're living, the Cincinnati Street Railway is right there with its service. In these times of stress, this service is appreciated more than ever before by parents and students of Withrow High School

WITHROW ANNUAL STAFF

Junior High

Junior High really is not as tough a tug-o'-war as this would seem, for school and fun are happily blended together for a well-balanced background for the years ahead.

Preparing for the next four years in Senior high, the Effies and E flats take on a serious attitude in both activities and studies.

Playtime after three o'clock includes anything from sports to leisurely conversations around the campus.

Patterning itself to a great extent after the senior high, the Effies and E flats engage in extra-curricular activities from basketball and baseball to the fine arts. Such projects as plays for the P. T. A. and singing in the Junior Choir obtain for the school much well-earned praise.

The variety of school curriculum spurs the initiative of the "youngsters" for future responsibilities.

Ranging from scrap drives to the annual tug-of-war, the Junior High youngsters participate in every phase of school activity. Colorful pennant awards for championships are on display in the home rooms. These testify to "Little Withrow's" achievements in every field of endeavor both in school and out.

Super salesmen, potential athletes, and future school leaders are the products of two years work in Tigertown's "Little Withrow."

There are no quotas in any drive that cannot be met by these spunky "Junior Highers."

Staggering figures published reveal to the school world that the Junior High is really on its toes. Always first are the "Little Withrowites" in sales of War Bonds and Stamps, scrap drives, and old clothes campaigns. They can ever be counted on for a good job.

BUILDERS OF TOMORROW

To make today's dream come true tomorrow, this boy and girl must begin to plan now. Only the mentally alert and physically sound will be able to greet the new world which will be theirs to have and to hold. The proper food is of great value in preparing them to meet this challenge. Milk is important for health—and good health will insure their dreams of tomorrow.

Activities

When the bell rings at three o'clock, school is out. But for many Withrowite

It is the signal to engage in many varied activities; publications, dramatics, musical organizations, and clubs.

Annual and Tower News represent Today at Withrow

Symbolic of Withrow is the school newspaper, Tower News, which continues to function weekly despite war difficulties which have slowed down production of many other school papers. Highlights of its four pages are school happenings, sporting events, news of the boys overseas, and reports of Withrow's activities in the war effort. Tower News not only reports the news, but also leads the way in any project for the benefit of all.

"Do you remember . . .?"

"Of course, and the picture is right here in the annual."

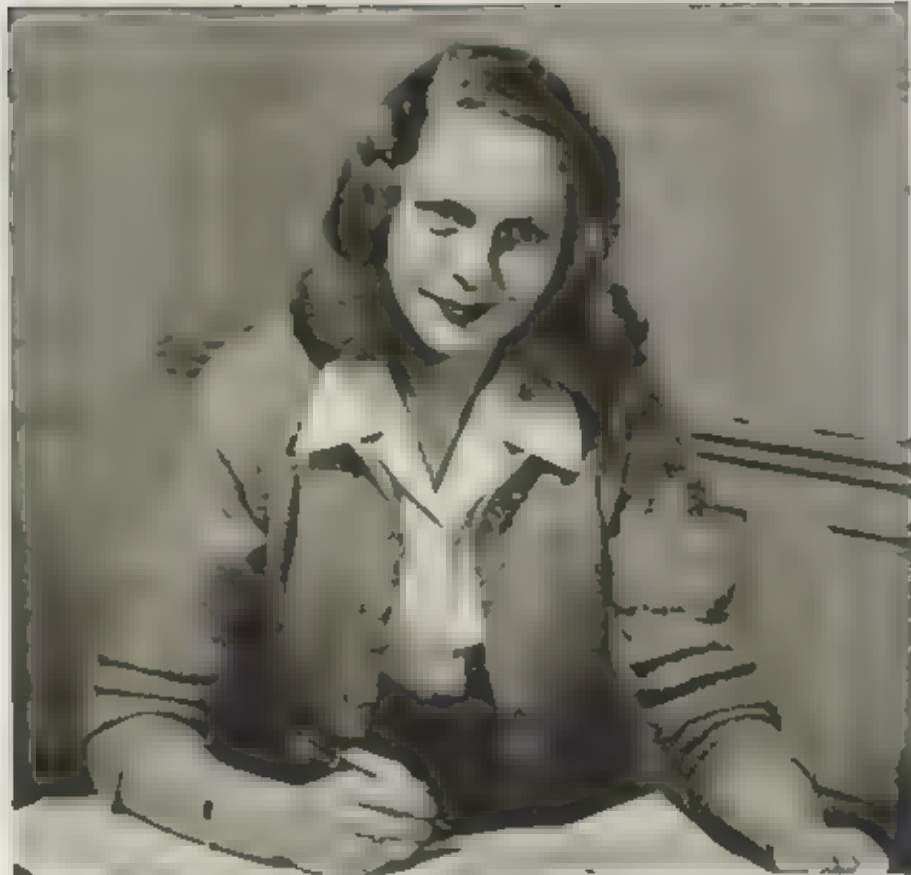

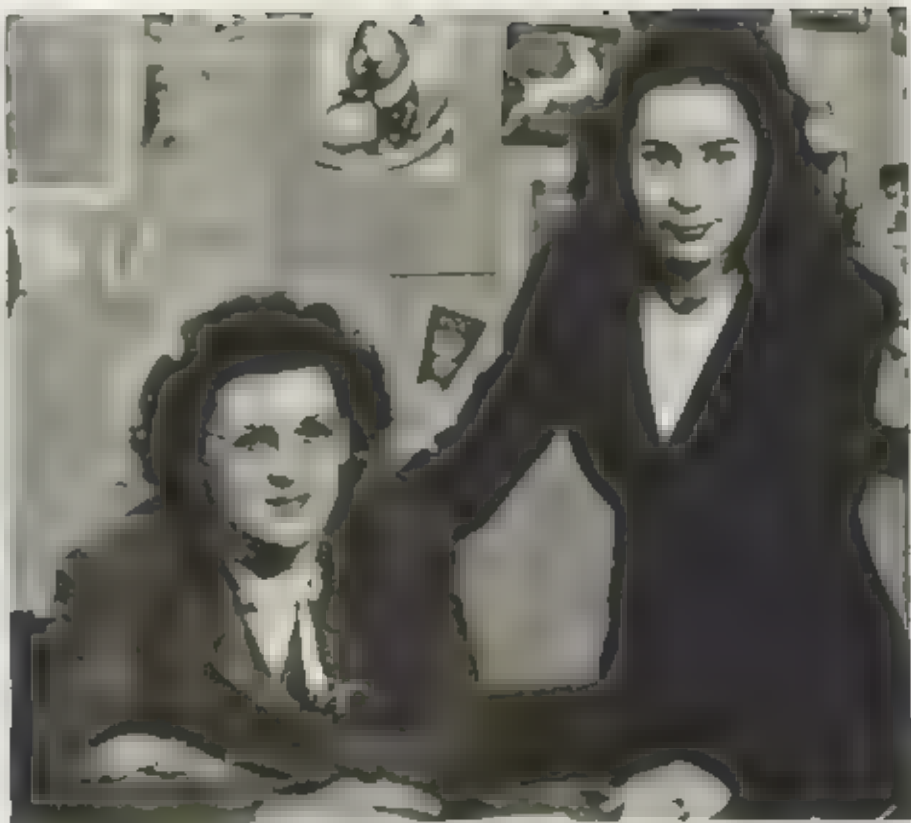

Memories of a pleasant year filled with happy friendships, good times, special friends, favorite places . . . that is your Withrow Annual. What better way is there to recall the highlights of today at Withrow . . . that class you enjoyed so much, the teacher who was a real friend, the clubs, sports, music, dramatics, activities, and assemblies.

From early in the morning until late in the afternoon the meeting places of the various branches of the Annual hummed with activity.

In 126A the Business Staff was found deeply engrossed in the somewhat thankless task of promoting Annual sales. Their success this year, due to a well-timed and energetic publicity campaign, was overwhelming.

On the second floor room 220 was, as usual, the hub of all Annual activity. The Art and Ad Staffs raced to meet the inevitable approach of deadlines.

Up in 309, the Literary Staff wrote, read proof, and identified at top speed.

There was no room for a slacker among any of the workers of the Annual for all realized that only through earnest cooperation could a unified and successful book be produced, and the promise to each pupil fulfilled.

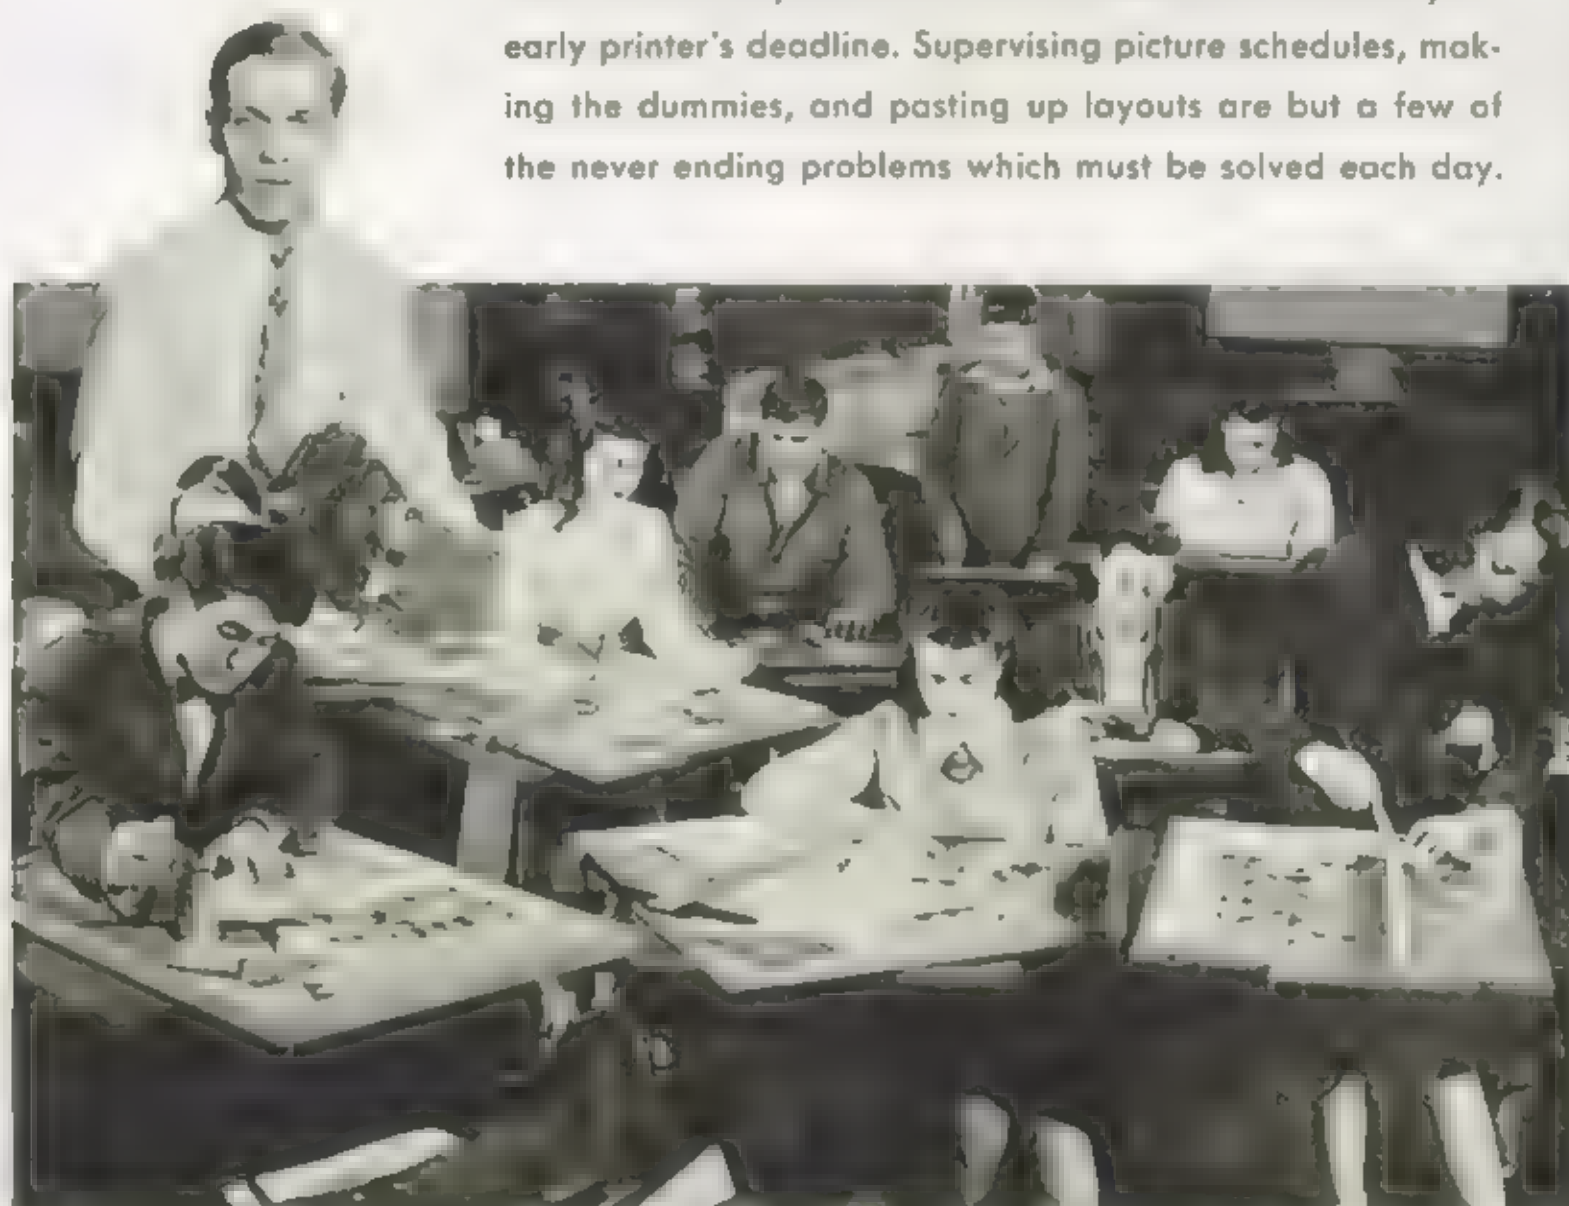

I. Pancoast, C. Phillips, R. Shafsta

The Annual Business Staff, supervised by Mr Rhollans, has the arduous task of overcoming financial difficulties of the Annual. Through various forms of advertising, including posters and an assembly, members of the staff, helped by Home Room Representatives, have succeeded in selling a great number of Annuals to pupils who were formerly undecided.

Annual Art Staff, guided by Miss Green, had to strive harder than usual this year to overcome difficulties created by an early printer's deadline. Supervising picture schedules, making the dummies, and pasting up layouts are but a few of the never ending problems which must be solved each day.

The Ad Staff, headed by Richard Face does not shirk its duty in supplying written material to the Annual. These erstwhile laborers must peruse magazines in search of clever ideas for advertisements. Then the place and time of pictures must be planned, and captions and write-ups must be written. This staff is a vital cog in the Annual machinery.

"Quiet, I can't count characters with all that noise"—an exclamation such as this can frequently be heard coming from room 309 on Tuesdays and Thursdays after school. Here the Annual Literary Staff spends its time identifying pictures and trying to think up write ups for teachers, clubs, sports, and other numberless activities included in the Annual.

Unusual ideas for cartoons, pictures, and sales are the duties of the Tower News art and business staffs respectively. Unique arrangements to catch the reader's eye often try the temperaments of the artists. Supplementary pictures cleverly made from wood blocks are spaced throughout the paper when art editors can find energetic volunteers. Promoting the weekly paper sales constitutes the largest part of the work of the business staff. The ever present need for publicity keeps them alert for new ideas. Their most successful "brain child" is the annual skating party for the whole school.

"Meet your deadline" is the byword of the Literary staff which strives each year for greater writing achievements. A continuous All-American rating is the ever inspiring goal of the staff members whose stories range from school projects to features on unusual hobbies. Long after three o'clock each day the large staff can be found in 106 headquarters until on Thursday they "put the baby to bed"—that is—finish another issue and send it off to the printers. Simultaneously the Ad staff energetically solicits ads for Tower News. A detailed chart keeps them informed on the annual sales.

When A Cappella Choir sings, well-trained

A Cappello Choir, under the direction of Mr. Leo H. Grether, has become one of the most popular organizations at Withrow. The beautiful music, which its members produce for appreciative audiences to enjoy, is responsible for this popularity. Its repertoire consists of selections from some of the world's finest composers. The one hundred and twenty-six members spend many hours under expert direction, rehearsing and preparing for each public appearance. The Christmas assembly is always a well-remembered occasion, and this year the presentation of "Hallelujah, Christ is Born," and "In Excelsis Gloria," deserved special praise. "The Voice of Freedom," in which the choir was joined by other musical organiza-

Girl's Glee Club is a very necessary musical organization at Withrow, for under the tutelage of director Leo Grether, its untrained voices obtain experience needed for more advanced work, such as A Capella Choir. This year the Girls' Glee Club, together with the Boys' Glee Club and A Capella Choir, made its first appearance at the annual Christmas assembly. Later, in the Spring Concert, the girls' beautiful songs thrilled appreciative audiences and helped the "Voice of Freedom" ring out through all the school in melodic harmony.

A peek through the door in 119 sixth period on Tuesday or Thursday might find Mr. Leo Grether proudly leading a chorus of hearty male voices engaged in singing a fine negro spiritual. Selections with a definite rhythm, have been the specialty of the Boys' Glee Club. A boy gets his start singing as a participant in Glee Club, and when he has acquired a basic knowledge of the theory of choral singing he may be selected for membership in the school choir. This is the coveted position eagerly looked forward to by every Glee Club member.

"On Withrow! On Withrow!" The student body rises as one when the Withrow Marching Band struts proudly down the football field and swings into its "theme" song. The band, directed by Mr. George G. Smith—better known as "Smittie", is one of the main attractions of our football games. All students are spell-bound as they watch this famous musical organization step lightly through a series of intricate formations. Although Withrow's band, which boasts of 130 talented musicians, is known mainly for its performances at football games, it also has a large part in livening up other school activities. The band entertains at our basketball games, pep assemblies, and in the Early Spring Concert. Indeed, Withrow High School's Marching Band is tooting its way to fame, and all at Withrow are proud of its many splendid achievements.

A high goal brought success for Thalian.

Thalian Dramatic Club—The goal: to produce a successful play, this year, "What A Life" by Clifford Goldsmith. The purpose: to relieve war time tension through a few hours pleasantly spent enjoying a comedy prepared with great enthusiasm by the members and skillfully directed by "Rosie". The result: a gratifying reward in appreciative applause and the sincere satisfaction of a job well done, with goal and purpose reached.

Thalian brought Henry's troubles to Withrow.

"Hen—ry! Henry Aldrich! come here immediately and tell me what trouble you are in now."

"Well, mother, it is like this: I just had to take Barbara to the school dance and you said I could go if I passed my history exam with the highest grade in the class and the band instruments were stolen, Mr. Patterson and Mr. Bradley got mad, I was expelled, and I am all mixed up because no one seems to understand me."

Such were the difficulties which confronted Henry on one memorable day of his eventful life. Thalian again successfully climaxed the year with the comedy "What A Life" by Clifford Goldsmith, adding new laurels to an already splendid record at Withrow.

At the close of another year members of Thalian can claim many mutual good times. Important memories are those of a Halloween masquerade, theater party, annual picnic, and the still talked about initiation. All this fun and frolic only comes after many hours of intensive work. Planning publicity, painting posters and scenery, ushering, securing properties, making up the actors, designing the program, prompting, and selling tickets are only a few of the things that go into a successful play. Everyone in Thalian agrees that hard work accompanied by spontaneous fun makes for lasting friendships and cherished memories of many activities today at Withrow.

With a tenth anniversary this year, Withrow Players have established a long and successful record

This year Withrow Players' birthday cake holds candles which indicate ten years of outstanding productions and experience for stagestruck Withrowites. The first play, 'Babs,' was presented in 1935. Since then, the Players have aimed toward better productions, establishing a record with this year's 'Ghost Wanted.' Another anniversary was celebrated with the revival of the traditional Washington Birthday Ball

A finished performance whether comedy, mystery or tragedy is the high goal of the club.

After long weeks of endless rehearsals, arrangements for publicity, work on scenery and countless other details, Withrow Players was ready for the presentation of its fall production "Ghost Wanted."

It was a thriller in every sense of the word, full of zombies, ghosts with sea-weed hair, and a sinister Nazi spy. Ramshead Rock, an island home off the coast of Maine, was the scene of strange occurrences among which was the return to life of a "drowned" fisherman and adventures in a secret passage. This year's play was one of the most successful produced, and the Players hope to go on to even better things as years pass by bringing many potential actor and actresses.

Despite the handicap of being in its thirteenth year of existence, Sigma Gamma, honorary fraternity for senior boys, has not failed in achieving a considerable degree of success. were presented. Some of the girls fixed dinner for the rest of the group and everyone had a grand time. In the spring, the club gave its impressive Recognition Tea and the annual Easter Breakfast. A picnic in June climaxed a busy year, and closed for a time numerous, happy school contacts.

"For as little as one dollar you can open an account in the Withrow school bank," says Mr. Ziegler, who, together with student assistants, has helped pupils save for college expenses, a summer vacation, or a start in business. Since its founding in 1925, the bank has taught its lesson of thrift to many pupils. Their individual savings have amounted to as much as a hundred dollars. Three years ago, the bank began war duties.

Withrow's boys' bowling team participated in fifteen games with the other members of the Public High School Bowling League. This year the team made a very good showing in the league by taking honors for the highest score in one game and in a three game play-off. In addition, one of the boys made the highest individual average with a score of 230. Next year an expanded program is being planned for a larger group.

Bowling club strikes were far from troublesome, for they brought excellent records to the whole team.

To the Offset Club is due the credit for the production of hundreds of football programs, basketball schedules, and sports posters. Working under the supervision of Russell Stearns the Offset boys put an average of one thousand football programs each game. Thus they carry on their activities here looking forward to the day they will enter the profession well prepared.

So that tall pupils may feel at home at Withrow, Tip Toppers membership is limited exclusively to girls and boys who can meet the "high" requirements of five feet eight inches and six feet respectively. Beginning with a boisterous initiation at Miljore the club carried through its program of varied activities with a party at the Foxhole, a rummage sale, skating party and a hayride.

"Vive la France" means much more to the world since the recent liberation of that country. Miss Baehr's French Club does its bit to help keep the expression alive by collecting clothing, soap, and money for the French War Relief. Besides this activity, the young enthusiasts have conversations and skits in French at their meetings to create an atmosphere of old France until the day they themselves can visit Paris.

With Mr. J. G. Srofe as its efficient director, the Philologian Literary Society strives to attain perfection in parliamentary procedure. Through extemporaneous speeches and debates, with various officials to criticize and correct any errors in their technique, participants in the club become more logical and fluent in their informal speech making.

What does a girl putting on make up in Ad Staff meeting have to do with the copy she is trying to write for the 20th Century Theater?

Like all American girls she is influenced by the glamorous stars of movie fame—Lana Turner's most recent hair do, Hedy Lamarr's new dress style, Ginger Rogers's most recent male lead—these things occupy the minds of many girls. Yes, the motion picture industry has great influence on today's youth.

But don't forget. Everyone goes to the movies for relaxation and entertainment and, naturally, many people prefer the modern and convenient 20th Century Theater. There you can be sure of seeing all the recent and popular movies.

Year-round participation in diversified sports highlights every season at Withrow; from fall through spring and well into summer, potential athletes glory in good sportsmanship.

Touchdown! We want a touchdown for victory.

HARTWELL

Withrow's football season opened September 22, in the Withrow stadium, where the Tigers romped to a 41-0 victory over the Hartwell eleven. Bob Scharhag and Captain Bob Nieman paced the Kingmen, totaling eleven points between them.

CENTRAL VOCATIONAL

On the afternoon of October 6, the Withrow team played host to the Central Vocational team. The Withrow eleven again ran rampant, trouncing the opposition 53-0, practically the entire Tiger squad seeing action at one time or another.

ELDER

Their third game of the season was no charm for the Withrow team, for they met defeat at the hands of the Elder Panthers, the score being a close 7-0. This first night game of the season was played in the Xavier stadium on October 13.

WESTERN HILLS

On the night of October 21, the Tiger eleven fought to a 27-20 victory over the Western Hills team. This was the second game of the annual football double-header, and was held as usual at the University of Cincinnati's Nippert Stadium.

NORWOOD

The fifth game, which took place on the home grounds, was played on the afternoon of October 26. Playing host to an invading Norwood team, the Tigers, contrary to custom, scalped the Indians, the final score being Withrow 40, Norwood 0.

PURCELL

On Friday night, November 3, the Kingmen met a strong Purcell team under the Xavier field-lights. The Cavaliers scored a victory over the Tigers with one much disputed touchdown to their credit, the score being an extremely close 6-0.

HUGHES

The annual Hughes-Withrow tilt, which was, as usual, much publicized, did not end too unhappily for either side. As the final gun went off both teams were struggling to break a 6-6 deadlock. The game was played Saturday, November 11.

WALNUT HILLS

The Walnut Hills game was the last of the season, and was played on November 17 in the Withrow Stadium. Dame Fortune smiled on the Tigers that day, for they emerged victorious, 19-6, to win the crown of the Public High School League.

See following page for data on players.

By their letters you shall

Kenneth Rhodes—After some rugged playing as right end, "Kenny" achieved a football letter in his senior year.

Albert Worthman—Fast and hard working at left half, "Al" won a letter for his contribution to the team in his junior year.

James Bullock—At right half Jim earned a letter in his junior year by fast, hard running and good tackling.

Ollie Hardin—Being small, but fast and tough brought a letter to Ollie in his junior year at Tigertown.

Robert Nieman—"Pinball" played a steady game and won, without too many "tilts," a letter in his senior year.

Norman Jones—Another junior letterman, whom the Tigers can look forward to seeing play some steady ball.

Joe Noertker—For three years "Big Joe" has held his place at left end, this year receiving a senior letter.

George Moser—A steady back with lots of spirit for 3 years, received his senior letter.

Tony Chiodi—After a two year membership playing back for the Tigermen, Tony received that coveted letter.

Robert Dietz—A senior letter climaxed a four year record as back for flyer Bob of the Withrow Tigers.

James Ostrander—Varsity claimed "Osty" for two years as center and presented him with two letters before the Navy called.

Richard Poole—Gaining a senior letter this year, Dick has played end for the past two seasons.

Know Withrow's top team.

Harlan Jacobs—It was no trouble for Jake to play end for three years and gain his senior letter this season.

Robert Scharhag—That runner of runners, "Legs" has been a member of the squad four years and has earned three letters.

John Lloyd—The Senator has earned a senior letter for being right in the middle of things as center for two years.

Virgil Scordina—As a member of the Tigermen during the past four years, "Scar" played back and earned two letters.

Richard King—Another back, "Rich" has participated for four years and made his letter in the Senior year.

Robert Tarpoff—Tiger tackle, he has played two years and this season received his orange and black letter.

Jack Brendamour—A Tiger tackle, "Brandy" made his letter after an exciting season with the Kingmen.

Richard Coler—As three year tackle he was ready for anything and this year received his coveted senior letter award.

Neal Schiffer—That Withrow letter looked good to the "Moose" who for three years has been a Tiger tackle.

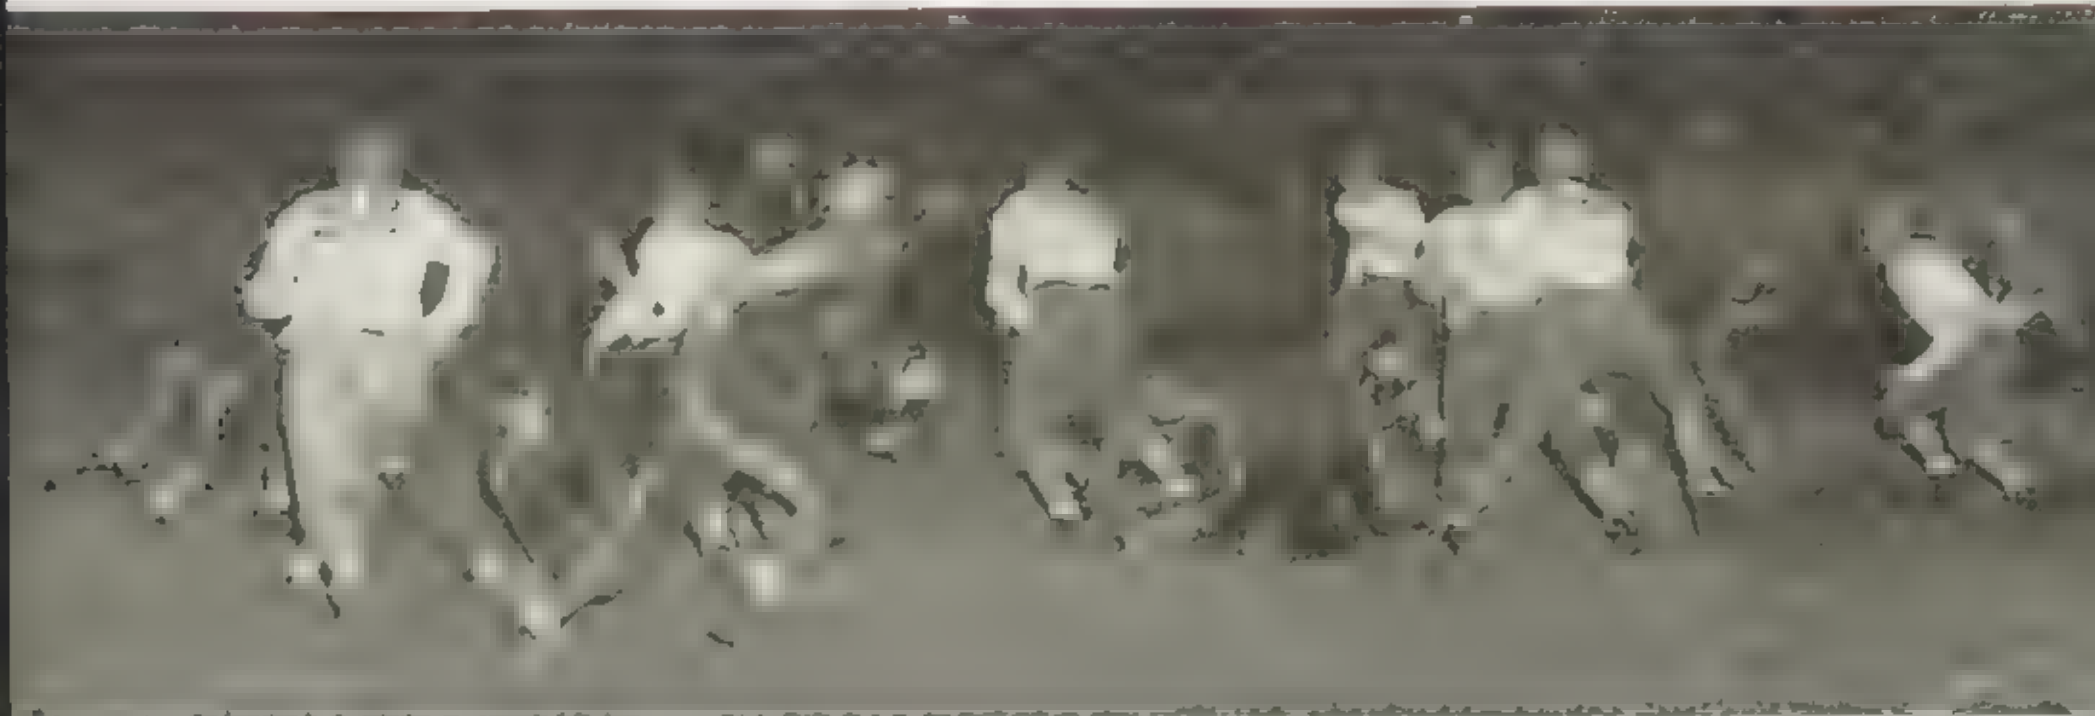

Robert McDonough—Guard for the team for three seasons, "Mac" received his senior letter after an adventurous season.

James Brunk—For two years Jim has served his team as guard, this season receiving the orange and black "W".

Edward Kunkle—Center for two years, Ed earned his letter this season as a regular Tiger member.

From the kickoff to the final whistle the Tiger

A blare of trumpets and the flash of whirling batons herald the colorful arrival of the band. It sweeps down the field amid strains of familiar Withrow songs and echoing cheers. The band seats itself, and the cheers subside as enthusiastic fans await the ensuing game. This is only the proverbial "calm before the storm." The storm breaks with a tremendous thunder of applause and streaks of lightning dressed in orange and black descend upon the field. The game begins! There's the kick-off. A player on Withrow's opposing team has received the ball and started the long struggle to the goal. Twist and turn as he may, he seldom reaches it against Tigertown's mighty warriors. Everyone hopes the game will end with the Tigers victorious and with teamwork it usually does.

Drums beat a sharp tattoo, the band marches down the field and the pre-game show is on! The drum-major and majorettes strut toward the goal posts and a yell goes up from the crowd as each throws a baton over the posts and successfully catches it. The cheerleaders direct the spectators in a cheer, welcoming the opposing team. Then the game begins; a hard fight, tense moments when all seems lost. However, with expert coaching and superb playing the Withrow Tigers emerge victorious. There is no doubt why football is the most popular sport.

Pace makers for the pep assemblies and football games, they set the temper for the crowd.

Their rhythmic movements, flashing smiles and twirling batons bring the crowd to its feet as they lead the marching band onto the field. It is then that the precision with which the drum major and majorettes perform, bring a real thrill to the whole game. Not only before and during the games do the majors add their spirit but also at pep assemblies, which are held before all important games.

Into the basket it flies---true to its mark.

Hughes—The Big Reds proved to be a menace to the Tigers this season when they won both league games and carried off the High School Championship.

Plainville—On December 5, Withrow opened its basketball season with a night game at Plainville. The desire for a good start toward the championship failed when the Tigers lost the first quintet.

Middletown—February 13 proved unlucky for the Tigers in the night game with the State Champions. Middletown, as the score shows, kept the title of Champions.

Walnut Hills—One of the most exciting games of the season was the game played on February 2, in which the Eagles won by one field goal in the last minutes of play.

Woodward—Although Withrow was the winner of both league games with Woodward, the "Bulldogs" really gave the Tigers a fight in the game on January 25.

Central—By winning the second Central game, Coach Shelly's quintet was able to gain second place in the Public High School Basketball League.

Norwood—The basketball season ended in the same manner as it started for the Tigers. Although hope was high in the last part of the game, the Tigers gave way to the Indians.

Western Hills—The "Maroon" was another team from whom the Tigers won both league games. In each game, only after a hard struggle, did the Tigers finally gain victory.

Girl athletes revel in their favorite sports.

Action with "the basketeers."

Fast action and fair play predominate in the basketball season. Participants play with similar rules to the boys' game with many girls acting as referees, umpires and scorekeepers throughout the year.

Down the fairway onto the green.

These golf enthusiasts are learning to "drive" and "putt." Although the sport is new to Withrow, it promises to be one of the popular outdoor activities for the senior girls each year.

Hockey and tennis have enthusiastic support.

"Ready, now, it's your serve."

After a rainy opening season, tennis finally got under way with real enthusiasm. Withrow's fine courts made playing a joy for those who were able to participate during the regular gym classes.

Hockey means an exciting game.

A goal is sought after a hard run amidst clashing sticks and, the hockey season is on! A "rough and ready" game like this does not bother the girls, and active participation is high each spring.

Active sports build both the body and spirit.

L. Freeburg, H. Hermerding, P. Craig, D. Whalen

"Side out! Serve over there!" was the referee's cry heard often during the winter months as gym classes and G. A. A. members played vigorous volleyball games. Besides providing exercise, this popular sport teaches good sportsmanship, fair play, and that cooperation between people is necessary always for that final complete victory.

With eager anticipation many future "Casey's" await Spring's first call to bring out the bat and ball. The customary jeering at the umpire, the spirited cheers, the thrill when ball meets glove all spell out the sporting world's most popular game, baseball. On Withrow's fields it flourishes with increasing vigor as each new season begins.

Skilled mermaids put on a sparkling show.

Splash! The mermaids of Withrow are at it again! Fourteen of the skilled splashers have completed courses in junior and senior life-saving. Many are competing in the swimmer's ability tests, and nineteen are eligible for swimming letters. These mermaids really deserve a hearty bravo for their sincere enthusiasm. The club's manager is Shirley Gibbons, and the sponsor is Miss Blasburg who has succeeded in creating several new stars. The forty girls of the club meet every Wednesday to enjoy parties, meets, practices and frolicsome pastimes in the pool.

gamut from insurance to entertainment, each the quintessence of quality, form the backbone of the annual.

The Professional Touch

Beautiful dancing, skillfully done, is a joy to behold. In such dancing a professional touch is constantly striven for.

This professional touch is achieved through many factors pertaining to the production. An important part of any production is the costuming, for it reflects the degree of professional artistry involved in the performance.

This all important quality is ever present in the beautiful costumes of the Withrow Minstrels. These costumes are kept fresh and sparkling by Naegele's where cleaning, artfully done, is assured.

"How does he work?" . . . clicked Papa Graflex, Mamma Graflex and Miny Graflex in perfect synchronization.

The big camera arched his bellows, adjusted his lens and focusing his ground glass on the subject, flashed . . . "Yearbook editors and advisors first call in Mr. 'B.' He shows them tricks on slanting a theme and developing copy and illustrative continuity. Then a comprehensive dummy is prepared. This service usually takes place in the spring and early summer. In the fall Mr. 'B' starts on the portraits. As soon as the clubs are functioning, he dramatizes their activities. Then follows production detail on engraving, based on the comprehensive dummy."

The three hand cameras nodded their hoods in complete understanding. As he closed his shutter, Papa Graflex posed this one for new editors and their advisors.—"Why not inquire further of Mr. 'B' about his services?"

Y OUR TELEPHONE SERVICE DEPENDS ON PEOPLE, TOO

- Your telephone, the wires that carry your voice, and the intricate equipment in the telephone office are only a part of what it takes to provide good telephone service—it takes people, too.
- Telephone service depends on operators, linemen, engineers, installers, clerks—2,000 men and women in scores of telephone jobs, who operate and maintain the $57,000,000 system of this company.
- With the cooperation of telephone users who have been considerate in their use of the Telephone—avoiding needless calls and keeping other calls brief—these telephone workers are doing their very best to make present equipment serve as many people as possible, after war needs are met, and to keep the quality of service as good as possible these war days.

THE BIG SEVEN

Congratulations to our editors and co-editors! Each has worked diligently to keep this 1945 Annual on par with those of the past. Last year, as well as for twelve consecutive years previous, it received All-American rating from the National Scholastic Press Association. In addition Medalist rating from the Columbia Scholastic Press Association was presented again as it has been for as many years as the association has existed. However, all of the work of the staff would have been in vain if it had not been for the excellent work of the printer whose splendid interpretation of ideas made the Annual truly an artistic production.
